JUAREZ IS SCENE OF SMALL FIGHT

Federals Fled From Orozco's Troops After Short Battle Near the City

MANY AMERICANS SAW FIGHT

Excitement Prevailed in Juarez and Situation is Serious—Expect Another Battle Today—Movements of Rebels.

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 7.—The first battle of Juarez between Federal troops and insurrectos was exhibited today. "Exhibited" is the proper word, for no one was hurt on either side and the "exhibition" was viewed by a thousand or more El Pasoans, who lined the bank of the Rio Grande on the American side, about three miles west of El Paso.

The exchange of missiles lasted about 15 minutes, and about 200 shots were fired. According to Pascual Orozco, the leader of the insurrectos, his men fired only fifty of these. He declared that the Federals got away so fast that they were out of range before more shots could be fired at them.

Tonight the Federals are behind the walls of the Cathedral of Guadeloupe, of the barracks and of the bull ring at Juarez, across the river from here.

Orozco comes in possession of the position which he occupied at noon and held against the Federal advance. He declared in an interview with The Associated Press correspondent that he firmly intends to attack Guarez, but that he awaited the arrival of General Blanco, with 350 men. He looked for the latter at any moment.

Orozco's present force around Juarez numbers under 600 men, probably 550. Of these 320 were with him in the skirmish this afternoon. The Federal forces, by actual count number 184, including 100 foot soldiers and 84 mounted infantry. They took with them no artillery, and Orozco has none.

The insurrecto leader and his men spent last night at Rancho Flores, usually inhabited by a few horses and a herd of goats, which the rebels took.

Orozco quit the ranch during the forenoon and, by moving through the deep arroyos which scar the desert everywhere, reached a new position in the hills along the river across from the El Paso smelter. Here the correspondents who had been on his trail since daybreak discovered him.

He and six of his lieutenants met the visitors half way up the boulder-strewn mountain side. He carried a rifle, like his men.

He looked care worn, but determined.

He answered questions only after deliberation, and often evasively. He was of no mind to betray his plans.

His 320 men were scattered along the hills for three-quarters of a mile. Some one leaving El Paso in an automobile, coincident with the departure of the Federals from Juarez under Colonel Rabago gave them the rebel warning.

Making a trumpet with his hands, the El Pasoan shouted: "Get busy; the troops are coming."

The scout machine was quickly followed by scores of others, each with a load, many of the passengers being women. Others came on horse back, carriages and express wagons, on hay racks and bicycles and hundreds by the street car line which runs out to the smelter. Other hundreds on foot arrived breathless after it was all over, except for an occasional "viva Madero" echeing from the hills.

At the alarm of the automobile as the Federals marched out the whole mountainside awoke to life. At 200 yards the revolutionists looked like insects making their way on all fours to avoid bullets, through the maze of cactus, soap weed, sagebrush and boulders.

It was about 2 o'clock this morning when Col. Rabago marched out the river road. The eastern wing of Orozco's forces opened fire when the foot soldiers appeared on a crest about 600 yards distant. The Federals halted in a compact mass, but escaped injury because the "thirty thirties" carried by the revolutionists are not effective at that distance. They returned the fire for 15 minutes. They then turned and retreated at a dog trot. The mounted men of the Federals did not come within range.

The sightseers on the American side bear witness to the celerity of the retreat for the Federals were in view for nearly a mile.

As soon as news of the impending fight reached Col. Sharpe, commanding the 23rd Infantry, U. S. A., he detached reinforcements to the guard at the smelter to prevent possible violation of American neutrality. The skirmish had been over for an hour when an insurrectionist, clutching a five peso bill in his hand, crossed to the American side. He had been sent to buy a dinner for Orozco, who had a surfeit of goat meat. A soldier turned him back, fearing that he wished to purchase ammunition. Again on the Mexican side he encountered some newspaper men who guaranteed the innocence of his mission. He bought his supplies under their supervision

CONGRESS TO CHANGE TREATY

Proposed Agreement Would Benefit Canada and Not United States As to Paper and Woodpulp Provisions.

Washington, Feb. 7.—As a result of the growing belief that the paper and woodpulp provisions of the new Canadian reciprocity agreement will operate one-sidedly to benefit the Dominion without a corresponding benefit to the United States, an important change is likely to be made by Congress in the measure before it is ratified.

Paper manufacturers and others, who have studied the agreement closely, believe that the language of the arrangement is so drawn that the United States may be compelled to admit paper free, before Canada complies with her part of the agreement. The situation has been presented to the Ways and Means Committee of the House in such strong light that many members of that committee are satisfied that the agreement between the two countries on the paper and pulp provisions is open to a construction, which will be distinctly to the disadvantage of American manufacturers.

Secretary Knox, of the State Department, sent a letter to the committee today stating that the commissioners who framed he reciprocal arrangements had arrived at only a tentative agreement upon the paper schedule. It can be changed, he said, without defeating the rest of the treaty; and its adjustment can be left to future negotiations or future action of congress.

The trouble arises over the distinction in Canada between "crown lands," and "private lands;" and the rulings that the Treasury Department at Washington has made on this subject. Where Canadian provinces prohibit the exportation of pulp logs, it is from "crown lands." The provinces have no power to prohibit the exportation of logs cut from private lands.

The Treasury Department has held that even where a province has prohibited the exportation of logs from crown lands the logs from private lands, or the paper manufacturers from them come in at lowest rate. On this basis it is feared that the courts will hold that paper from private land timber, or from provinces that have no restrictions, can come in free, even before the rest of the provinces remove their restrictions.

Members of the Ways and Means Committee stated today that this was not the opinion they held when the reciprocity agreement first was made public. They are certain also that the commissioners of the two countries did not hold that opinion. It was intended that no Canadian paper should come free until all Canadian provinces allowed American mills to have free legs. It is believed that a change will be made in the language of this section so that it will not be open to the construction which American paper manufacturers fear.

As Viewed in Canada.

Ottawa, Canada, Feb. 7.—Discussion of the Canadian-American reciprocity agreement was not resumed by the Canadian House today as the opposition asked for time to study the effect of the measure. The subject therefore was deferred until Thursday.

Followers of the government held a caucus today at which the reciprcity arrangement was considered and there was no unanimous expression in favor giving it effect. This insures the success of the measure in Parliament as the government has a majority of fifty.

EXPECT FIGHT IN HAITI.

Troops Awaiting Arrival of President Simon—Details.

Cape Haitien, Haiti, Feb. 7.—The dispatch boat Nord Alexis arrived here this morning from Gonaives, where it took on government troops which had been transported to that place by the Allemania. The troops were landed and are now awaiting the arrival of President Simon, who at the head of a large force is proceeding here by land. He was at Plaisance, about ten miles from this city yesterday.

The commandant of the Cape Haitien district today accompanied General Florestal Magloire, who recently was appointed to command of the Haitien army on an inspection of the city. Fighting continues at Trou and Cunaminth.

CAITHNESSHIRE ASHORE.

New York, Feb. 7.—The steamship Allianca at sea reported by United Wireless this afternoon that she had sighted the British bark Caithnesshire ashore on a reef on Watling Island in the West Indies. The United States steamship Birmingham, it was added was taking off the crew. The Birmingham, referred to is presumed to be the scout cruiser Birmingham. The Caithnesshire left Wilmington, N. C., on January 17th for Port Aurthur, Texas.

STATUE TO GENERAL GREEN.

On Guilford Battle Grounds Provided for In Bill Passed In Senate.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The erection of a statue to Major General Nathanael U. Green upon the Guilford battleground in North Carolina was provided for by the government today when the House enacted into law the Senate bill on this subject.

BILL NOW PASSES AFTER LONG FIGHT

Provides For Embassies, Legations and Consular Buildings Abroad

LONGWORTH'S PLEA TO HOUSE

Will Give Poor Man Chance in American Diplomatic Corps—Lowden Lead Fight—Features of the Measure.

Washington, Feb. 7.—After a ten years' struggle, the House today passed a bill providing for the purchase and construction of American embassies, legations and consular buildings abroad. The measure was put through under a suspension of the rules by a standing vote of 141 to 39, the announcement of the rsult by the speaker being greeted by applause.

The Senate which on several occasions in the past has adopted similar bills is expected to ratify today's action of the House.

Representative Lowden, of Illinois, author of the bill, lead the fight for it, seconded by Representative Longworth, of Onio. The opposition to the measure came from the Democratic side, Representative Cull, of Indiana, and Underwood, of Alabama, making the principal speeches. Mr. Lowden declared that every Secretary of State from Olney down had urged the adoption of such legislation. Mr. Longworth declared that there were only two ways of broadening the scope of the American diplomatic corps and taking it out of the realms of the millionaire. One was to increase the salaries so as to enable a comparatively poor man to live on a scale with his colleagues and the other was to provide him with a suitable house in which to live.

"Failure to do either one of these two things," said Mr. Longworth, "has developed in this country an office-holding aristocracy which is utterly repregant to a Democratic form of government—an aristocracy that depends, not upon birth, but upon the might of money."

Mr. Longworth appealed especially to the Democrats to support the bill claiming that it had been endorsed by William Jennings Bryan and Samuel Gompers.

"It is also strongly recommended by a Republican of Democratic tendencies—using that word in its broad sense—the President of the United States." Mr. Longworth continued: "With homes provided for our ambassadors and ministers abroad we will be in a position to select for these offices men of learning, training and patriotism and not be restricted to men fitted solely by their pocket boks."

The bill limits the cost of buildings to $150,000.

ARNOLD CLUE FAILED.

Now Believed That New York Heiress Did Not Sail January 5th.

New York, Feb. 7.—The story of Harmann Phillips, a ship's rigger, who recently reported that he was positive he had seen Dorothy Arnold sail for Europe on the steamship Cincinnati on January 5th, was but weakly substantiated when the vessel returned here today from Genoa. A stewardess and two deck stewards were reasonably certain that a young woman who occupied stateroom 123 was Miss Arnold, but the purser and chief steward on the contrary were quite positive that the missing girl was not aboard the ship.

George S. Griscom, Jr., of Pittsburg, an acquaintance of Miss Arnold, whom her relatives sought abroad in the hope that he could clear up the case, is due to arrive tomorrow on the steamship Berlin. He has said all along that he knows nothing of her whereabouts and Mr. Arnold said this afternoon that he and his son John would meet the Berlin and apologize to Griscom for the notoriety to which he has been subjected.

DISPENSARY AFFAIRS AGAIN.

Conduct of Old Board Will be Investigated in South Carolina.

Columbia, S. C., Feb. 7.—The State Senate today passed a bill providing for the executive committee to investigate the conduct of the winding committee of the old dispensary board, and other persons whom it may see fit to bring into the case. The bill grew out of a message from Governor Blease, which urged an investigation.

CAROLINIAN IS APPOINTED.

James J. Britt to Be Third Assistant Postmaster General.

Washington, Feb. 7.—James J. Britt of North Carolina, was nominated today by President Taft to be third assistant postmaster general.

Mr. Britt has served for a number of years as a special assitant attorney general for the postoffice department. He succeeds A. A. Lawshee who resigned because of ill health.

CASE GROWS SENSATIONAL

Three Arrests in Connection With Killing of Young Floyd at Mount Tabor Saturday Night—The Preliminary Today.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Feb. 7.—There is still absorbing interest and speculation here over the shooting to death of young Floyd at Mount Tabor, this county, Saturday evening, this being accentuated by the arrest of Mrs. R. D. Hayes, who admits the shooting but says that it was in defense of her honor; Mr. Hayes, her husband, and Lloyd Hayes, a brother of the husband.

They were arrested last night by Deputy Sheriff Ammons and brought in from Wilmington, being lodged in the Whiteville jail to await preliminary trial tomorrow at noon. A charge of murder will be made against Mrs. Hayes and the other two will be charged with being accessories before the fact. Relatives and friends of the dead man will push the prosecution. They charge that the killing was a conspiracy and that all three of the parties under arrest are concerned in it.

On the noon train today there arrived in Whiteville Mr. M. T. Floyd, father of the young man killed, and Mr. Julius T. Floyd, a brother, both of Gallivant's Ferry, S. C. They announce their purpose to prosecute the case to the last ditch and will employ the best counsel to fight the case. The defense has retained Messrs. Donald MacRackan and Messrs. Schulken, Toon & Schulken, of the Whiteville bar.

The elder Mr. Floyd said he came to Whiteville to employ the best counsel to be had, as he wanted justice done his murdered son; that while dead men told no tales, he was satisfied the boy had been enticed into the house and foully assassinated; that he was a gentleman, and a Christian and such conduct as charged against him was alien to his nature. He did not know how long they would remain in Whiteville; that he and his son came here not to seek vengeance, but justice, and do all possibly to vindicate the good name of his murdered boy.

Your correspondent last night went to the jail to interview the parties under arrest. Mrs. Hayes was at supper and Neal Hayes, the husband, and his brother were in a cell together. The latter is a rough looking country lad. He said that he had no hand in the killing and knew nothing of it until the shooting was over.

Neal Hayes, the husband, is a young man with an open, pleasant face and without an instant's hesitation answered all questions. He said the news that his wife had shot and killed young Floyd was a great shock to him; he had known Floyd five or six years and his relations with him were not only pleasant, but intimate; that nothing had ever occurred between them of the least unpleasant nature. Both he and his wife looked on the deceased as one of their good friends. On the evening of the tragedy Floyd came in his barber shop, shook hands and they chatted pleasantly for a few moments. Floyd then left to treat Mrs. Hayes at the house a short distance away. Hayes said he and his wife lived happily together and were true to one another. If he had had a grudge against Mr. Floyd, he would have settled it himself and not left it to a woman. He looked on Floyd as a gentleman and had no hesitancy to admitting him to him home.

Mrs. Hayes would not talk of the occurrence further than to dismiss the interviewer with polite and pleasant language.

RAILROAD DEVELOPMENT.

President Finley Attended Historical Exhibition at Richmond.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 7.—President W. W. Finley, of the Southern Railway,, who was one of the guests at the reception given by the Chamber of Commerce here tonight in connection with the opening of the Virginia Mineral Timber and Historical Exhibition, outlined the development of the company since its organization in 1894 and prophecies a great development for the South.

"The general territorial relations of the company," he said, "may now be said to be established and the problem of the present and of the future is the continued development and improvement of the railway system thus created. This must be a continuing work, for, great as has been the material progress of the Southeastern States in the past 17 years, I believe that we may look for still more rapid development in the years that are to come and that the railways of our section will be called upon to meet ever increasing demand for transportation service."

SENATOR TERRELL IMPROVES.

Will Be Removed to Atlanta Home for Recuperation.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Senator Terrell, of Georgia, continues to show improvement since his attack of acute indigestion last Saturday and his brother, H. W. Terrell, of LaGrange, who arrived here today expects to remove him to his home in Atlanta next week for recuperation. Dr. Terrell after examining the Senator found that he had a slight cerebral hemorrhage following the attack of acute indigestion. This caused partial paralysis to the right side which is gradually disappearing.

TITLED FOREIGNER WEDS MISS GOULD

LORD DECIES NAME OF GROOM

Second Daughter of Geo. J. Gould—Was International Event—List of Attendants and Features Given.

New York, Feb. 7.—Helen Vivien, second daughter of George J. Gould, head of one of the wealthiest and most prominent families in America, was married at St. Batholmew Episcopal church in Madison Avenue shortly after 4 o'clock this afternoon to Lord Decies, an English army officer. She is 18 years old, he is 44.

The church was packed with a brilliant assemblage representing the best of New York's social and professional life together with a sprinkling of foreign nobility, relatives and friends of the bridegroom. Outside in the slushy streets there pushed and shoved the usual crowd of curious persons. Yet, notwithstanding the crowd there was no untoward incident and none of the many cranks who had assailed Decies in anonymous communications made themselves known.

The ceremony was performed by Bishop David H. Greer, of the Episcopal diocese of New York, and the Rev. Dr. Leighton Parks, rector of St. Bartholomews'. George Gould gave his daughter away and Miss Edith Gould, the bride's next oldest sister was maid of honor. Lord Alastar Graham, R. N., a son of the Duke of Montrose, was best man.

The guests began to assemble more than an hour before the wedding. At 3:15 Lord Decies arrived, nearly an hour before the bride's car stopped at the curb. He was resplendant in his uniform of the Seventh Hussars, a glitter with service medals and blue and gold braid. Patent leather boots glistened on his feet; he carried a plumed helmet in the crook of his arm and wore a sabre.

Unnoticed by most of the crowd he entered the church surrounded by a group of friends, who were apparently taking no chances with cranks. He was a calm as a soldier should be, but a bit perturbed lest the crowd should jostle the bride-to-be on arrival.

The police arrangements had been planned carefully, the line held here and there. There was no rushing of a bridal party, which occurred when Majorie Gould married Athony J. Drexel last year.

A cheer went up as George Gould and his daughter stepped from a big limousine car and entered the church. As they did so the first sunshine of the day peeped forth. A moment later the notes of the wedding march sounded. This was at 4:13 and Lord Decies and his best man appeared at the chancel. The six bridesmaids, carried lillies of the valley, led the bridal party. They were followed by the little attendants, baby Gloria Gould with Master William Beresford and Diana Dalzell with Master Marcus Beresford. Miss Edith Gould as maid of honor, came next, immediately preceeding the bride and her father. The ceremony was over in 23 minutes, and Lord and Lady Decies posed for a moment for a battery of cameras before their car whisked them away to the reception at the Gould mansion on Fifth avenue.

The illness of Beatrice Claflin, one of the bride's maids, necessitated a change at the last moment and Miss Claflin's place was taken by Miss Annie Douglass Graham.

The other brides maids were: Misses Hope Hamilton, Hannah Randolph, of Philadelphia; Louise Cromwell, of Washington, D. C., and Allison Pierce, of Oyster Bay. Two little nephews of the bridegroom, Marcus and Graham Beresford, carried the train of the bride's gown. The couple will sail shortly for Egypt where they will remain until leaving for the Coronation.

The wedding gown was hite satin, embroidered in white and silver, with designs of Easter lilies.

The only unusual incident attendant upon the wedding occurred when a horse drawing Mrs. T. M. Kingdom, the bride's grandmother, shied at an awning, Mrs. Kingdom, already verging upon illness, became greatly excited and had to be carried into the Gould home by servants.

GOVERNOR DECLINES.

Will Not Commute Sentence of Transylvania Negro.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 7.—Governor Kitchin declines to commute the sentence of Phillip Mills, the Transylvania negro to the electric chair at the penitentiary Friday of this week for the murder of his wife, having crushed her skull ith his gun after running her for some distance. Pressure was brought to bear upon the Governor to commute the sentence on the ground the negro was not mentally responsible.

HOT PURSUIT OF DESPERADO

Negro Desperado Wanted at Wilson Being Rounded Up in Greene County—Two Others Sent to Penitentiary.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Wilson, N. C., Feb. 7.—Lewis West, slayer of Sheriff Mumford, is surrounded in a little swamp near Ridge Springs, Greene county, 18 miles from Kinston, by well armed posses from Kinston and Wilson, and his death or capture is hourly expected. The officers have orders to shoot him on the spot. No word has been received from the posses at midnight.

Wilson, Feb. 7.—This afternoon a telephone message received here from Hookerton, in Greene County, stated that the negro Lewis West, who murdered Deputy Sheriff Geo. W. Mumford and probably fatally wounded Chief of Police O. A. Glover, was in that neighborhood and upon this information, a special train was run from Wilson over the Norfolk and Southern and East Carolina Railroad, carrying a posse of about 75 men well armed. This train left Wilson at about 3:45 and reached Hookerton about 5 o'clock. Arriving at the scene, your correspondent, who went with the posse, gleaned the following facts.

This morning about 12 o'clock, Mr. John Haddon, a R. F. D. carrier, and Mr. John Ketchum saw a suspicious negro walking along the road and saw him go into a negro house. Haddon had a gun, Ketchum did not, they went to the house where the negro was. Haddon went to the back door and saw that the negro was shaving. Haddon then went to the front door and told him to surrender. At this the negro cut at him with the razor and ran over Ketchum. Haddon fired on him, wounding him in the leg, they then followed the trail which was bloody. He was recognized from the description to be Lewis West. He had a wen on his neck, had on a white sweater and a red undershirt. At this writing (7 P. M.), the posse is leaving Ormond's store for a swamp, two miles away. The negro is said to be only about half an hour ahead of the posse.

At 6:15 tonight the bloodhounds at Tarboro were 'phoned for to go to Adam's Bridge, near the Pitt county line. The authorities were advised that the dogs will be sent on a special train at once to Farmville and thence by automobile to Adam's Bridge. The report at this hour is that the posse is on a hot trail, and believe that the dogs will run him down.

Sheriff Sharp accompanied by Mr. J. D. Mercer, left on the train tonight for the penitentiary at Raleigh with Jim Simms, who was arrested Sunday night, and Ed. Purcell, alias Stetson, who was arrested at Selma last night, for safe keeping. These parties are supposed to be accomplices of Lewis West.

Chief Glover's condition tonight is reported not so favorable.

Negroes Reach Raleigh.

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 7.—Simms and Stetson, two negroes, charged with being implicated in the killing of Deputy Sheriff Mumford, of Wilson, reached here tonight from Wilson and were placed in jail here for safe keeping. They had been incarcerated in the Wilson jail, but the feeling was growing so strong there that, if they remained, a lynching was feared.

SENATOR SIMMONS WINS.

Has Young A. C. Shaw Restored to Interior Department Practice.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 7.—Senator Simmons has finally won his fight for A. C. Shaw, son of Major John D. Shaw, of Rockingham, who was barred from practicing before the Interior Department by Secretary Ballinger.

During the ballinger-Pinchot controversy Shaw, who was the law officer of the Forestry Bureau, was dismissed from the government service because Mr. Ballinger thought he was too friendly with Mr. Pinchot. Later when the young man wanted to practice law before the Department he was not allowed to do so. Senator Simmons interested himself in the case and has conducted a fight for Shaw for the past 18 months. Mr. Simmons appealed to President Taft, who at first refused to interfere, but later agreed to reconsider and today notified Senator Simmons that there would be no further opposition to Shaw. Young Shaw is now located in Portland, Ore., where he is rated among the most prominent attorneys of the State.

MORSE HAVING HARD TIME.

Violated Prison Rules and 20 Days Was Added to His Sentence.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Charles W. Morse cannot win back the 20 days' good time he lost a few weeks ago for a breach of prison rules in Atlanta penitentiary. Although the penitentiary warden and Superintendent Ladow were in favor of remitting the time, Attorney General Wickersham, after a review of the case, declined to approve it.

Morse was found with money in his possession and told several stories of where he got it. His contradictory explanations cost him 20 days, which had been applied to usual allowance for good behavior.

IMPORTANT BILLS IN BOTH HOUSES

Busy Season With North Carolina Legislators at Raleigh Yesterday

AUTOMOBILE LAW TABLED

Put Solicitors on Salary—More Judicial Districts—Refunding Bonds. Railroad Measures—Change Divorce Regulations.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 7.—The Senate consumed over an hour today debating the bill amending the automobile law by giving to boards of aldermen the power to prescribe the speed limit in incorporated towns. The bill was finally tabled.

Senator Hobgood, chairman of the Committee on Judicial Districts, introduced a bill to divide the State into 20 judicial districts, instead of 16 as now.

Representative Wooten offered in the House a bill to put solicitors on salaries after March 1st, 1912, records of fees to be certified to the State Treasurer in the meantime and salaries to be scaled on a basis that will allow $1,600 salary where the fees aggregate in a district $1,800, the scale running up to $4,000 where the fees amount to $4,200.

Mr. Doughton introduced a bill providing bonds to refund those due in 1913 and to take care of the $350,000 deficit in the State Treasury caused by the revenue failing to meet the appropriations by the last Legislature.

A bill by Battle would amend the law as to listing polls and property for taxation.

Mr. Connor introduced bills to amend the Revisal relative to the sale of future contracts; provide for appeals by the insurance companies of the State from the rulings of the Insurance Commissioner to the Council of State.

The House spent an hour arguing the bill to amend the Revisal as to divorce so as to allow divorce after five years separation where there are no children. It finally passed second reading, 47 to 27, and went back to the calendar on successful objection to a final reading.

The Connor bill to protect employes of railroad companies and including a clause that is claimed would cripple, if not destroy the Atlantic Coast Line's "release liability clause," was made the special order for next Tuesday.

The Senate Committee on Counties, Cities and Towns this afternoon designated a subcommittee to consider the Bellamy bill to amend the charter of Wilmington.

The House Committee on Salaries and Fees voted unanimously today for a favorable report on the Senate bill to increase the salary of the Governor to $6,000. This bill is by Senator Gardner and has already passed the Senate.

The bill by Senator Hobgood to divide the State into 20 judicial districts, introduced today, gets a favorable report from the joint Senate and House Committees on Judicial Districts, and, if passed, the committees will then re district the State on that basis.

The Senate Committee on Legislative Apportionment began work today by the appointment of a sub-committee consisting of Senators Thorne, chairman; Pharr, Bassett, Hicks and Martin, of Buncombe.

The Senate Committee on Propositions and Grievances gave a hearing this afternoon on the Kent bill prohibiting near beer in North Carolina and agreed on an amendment curing the alleged defects as to the character of preparations that druggists are to be permitted to sell. The amendment will be satisfactory to Dr. Kent and the druggists. A sub-committee was appointed to draft the amendment and report back to the committee.

After spending over two hours in a discussion of the farm life school bill the joint Senate and House committees on education tonight decided to appoint a sub-committee to revise and make minor changes to meet objections.

There was no disagreement in the discussion as to the farm life school scheme. Several speeches were made in favor of the measure, including State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner; Dr. H. Q. Alexander, president of the State Farmers' Union; Mr. Shaw, a representative of the Union; Representative Spainhour, Senator Baggett, Senator Cobb, of Robeson, and others.

The bill provides that the State appropriate $2,500 for each school when the county raises a like amount for building equipment and the farm attached for demonstration work is to contain not less than 25 acres, except in certain instances, where only 10 acres will be cultivated.

Senate—Routine Proceedings.

Petitions Presented.

Hobgood, of Guilford: From citizens of Guilford, favoring the Kent prohibiting the handling of liquor by anti-near-beer bill and the Brown bill clubs.

Thorne, of Nash (by request): From certain citizens of Nash asking to be permitted to manufacture wine and brandy.

Johnson, of Duplin: Provide for the erection of automatic gates; also from 18 citizens of Duplin against near-beer.

Kitchin, of Halifax (by request): Sikes, of Wake: From citizens of From W. C. T. U. against near-beer. Mark's creek township, Wake county, against the formation of Ransom county.

Haymore, of Surry: From 40 citizens of Surry against near-beer and keeping liquor by clubs, and to memorialize Congress to pass an act that when liquor is shipped into the State it shall be under the jurisdiction of the State.

Carpenter, of Gaston: From employees of Ozart cotton mills, Gaston county.

New Bills Introduced.

Boyden, of Rowan: Provide for the construction of a bridge across the stream which divides Rowan and Davie counties.

Pinnix, of Yadin: Relative to the duties of sheriff; also regulate the fees of the register of deeds of Yadkin.

Hobgood, of Guilford: Provide for a division of the State into 20 judicial districts.

Kitchin, of Halifax: Provide for payment of certain money by commissioners of Scotland Neck into the school fund.

Thorne, of Nash: Relief of J. L. Green, justice of the peace of Nash, and to validate certain of his acts. (Placed upon the calendar, by unanimous consent).

Cobb, of Robeson: Appoint agricultural commissioner of Robeson, and prescribe his duties; also to amend road law of Robeson.

Cotten, of Pitt: Relative to directors of State's prison.

Sies, of Wake: Provide for higher education of the blind; also for relief of deaf and blind children attending school.

Starbuck, of Forsyth: Amend the charter of the Winston-Salem and Southbound Railway Company.

Bills Ratified.

Authorize the commissioners of South Biltmore to levy special tax. Relative to building a road in Jackson. Authorize commissioners of Concord to issue bonds. Authorize commissioners of Pitt to issue bonds to build court house and jail. Joint resolution to pay the Senate members who visited the insane asylum at Morganton. Improve roads of Murphy township, Cherokee county.

Passed and Sent to House.

For the relief of J. L. Green, justice of the peace in Nash, and to validate certain of his acts. Extend privilege of exchanging free transportation by railroads in this State to other common carriers, subject to the laws of this State. Amend the charter of Salem. Resolution inviting non-resident North Carolinians living in the Northwest to visit North Carolina during October of each year.

Passed Second Reading.

Permit Wendell school district, Wake county, to issue $10,000 bonds. For better drainage of lowlands of Potts creek, Catawba. Pertaining to drainage of Clark's creek, Lincoln. Authorize Fayetteville to make assessments against abutting property owners in carrying on street paving. Authorize Fayetteville to issue bonds to extend its waterworks system.

Automobile Bill on Table.

The bill relating to the speed of automobiles and penalty for violation was again for the third time taken up and discussed, the debate lasting over an hour and finally it was, on motion of Senator Martin, of Washington, consigned to the table by a vote of 18 to 16. During the debate a dozen or more Senators gave expression to their views on automobiles and automobiling, the general disposition of the Senate being to reduce rather than increase the speed limit, as allowed by the bill, which authorizes boards of aldermen to fix the speed limit in incorporated towns.

Routine Matters.

The bill relative to the appointment of guardians went over until tomorrow. The bill for the relief of J. L. Sheek, ex-sheriff of Davie county, took same course.

The Senate received a message from the Governor, in reference to the action of the Governor of Nevada in refusing to accept as a gift the repudiated bonds of North Carolina.

There was a discussion of the bill relating to fertilizers and on motion it was re-referred to the Committee on Agriculture.

The bills for the relief of the Appalachian Training School and to establish a training school for teachers in Western North Carolina, were reported favorably by the Committee on Education, with a request that they be referred to the committee on appropriations. This was done.

Senator Cobb, of Robeson, offered a petition from citizens of Robeson county against near-beer.

Senator Johnson, of Duplin, introduced a joint resolution for the relief of the railway mail clerks in this State and spoke in favor of its adoption. The resolution was referred to the committee on Federal relations.

The Senate, at 12:55 adjourned until 11 o'clock Wednesday.

House--35th Day.

The House was convened at 10 o'clock by Speaker Dowd, Rev. Mr. Taylor, of Raleigh, offering prayer.

There were additional petitions against near beer and liquor in clubs. Large numbers of bills came from committee with favorable reports and took places on the House calendar. The committee on Liquor Traffic reported favorably the bill to allow sheriffs $40 for convictions for running distilleries and $10 where there is no conviction, and reported unfavorably the bill to give sheriffs and policemen jurisdiction to destroy stills in adjoining counties.

The Finance Committee reported favorably a Senate resolution to thank the State of Nevada for refusing to accept the gift of repudiated North Carolina bonds.

The Committee of Federal Relations reported favorably a joint resolution calling on representatives in Congress to support Parcels Post.

New Bills Introduced.

Theatrical

The English Grand Opera Company was the attraction at the Academy of Music last night and though the audience was only fairly large, it was enthusiastic and appreciative. The Company presented first, "The Rose of Auvergue," after which the grand opera "Cavalleria Rusticana." The company had its own orchestra, composed entirely of women, known as the Metropolitan Orchestra, and too much cannot be said in their praise, as the programme rendered was of unusual merit and stamped every member as an accomplished musician.

"The Climax."

Unique among modern stage offerings and serving as the pioneer of the new drama comes "The Climax", a play in three acts by Edward Locke which will be seen for the second time at the Academy next Monday night. "The Climax" is acknowledged the greatest play in years and Mr. Locke recognized as one of the most promising authors. Mr. Weber found a gem of purest dramatic ray serene when he discovered "The Climax." He undoubtedly paved the way for a new class of play. The betterment of the American stage has long been the subject of discussion and the answer to the argument seems to have come in "The Climax." The author has hit upon a new theme, and with the assistance of Joseph Carl Rreil, who composed the incidental music which forms so important a factor in the delightful play, has worked it out in not only a most agreeable manner but it is one of the most artistic bits of stage-craft. He works up to it with sound dialogue which has a human quality. The scenes have that natural aspect with a suggestion of life as it is lived by real human beings.

Coming of Blanche Ring.

That delightful collection of femininity that glides into our midst under the appellation of Blanche Ring, is the most desired quantity in the theatrical firmament, and she will soon be with us in person as the bright particular star of "The Yankee Girl," a musical comedy for which George V. Hobart and Silvio Hein were responsible, on Tuesday, February 14th, at the Academy.

It is a matter of pleasurable comment on the latter-day productions of musical comedy that the public taste is being educated to a higher plane, and that they are no longer satisfied with the ordinary drivel that was served for many years and which proved itself to be a misnomer to the title-musical comedy. Such a vehicle as "The Yankee Girl" leads us to expect better things, and what Miss Ring has done with this latter-day vehicle has proved to its authors, Mr. George Hobart, who wrote the libretto, and Mr. Silvio Hein, who wrote the music, that there is a desire for something better and that tastes are improving.

There is quite a clever story in the "Yankee Girl" and although the locale is a fictional one, as it is laid in the visionary republic of "Brilliantina", yet the object of the play is definite and concerns a possible plot in which there is something to be attained and where loyalty and patriotism go hand in hand in the cementing of national friendship, with the broad American atmosphere wherever the flag is flown.

Grand Theatre.

There is a significance in the fact that over 500,000 people in New York City attend moving pictures shows every week. New York is considered the centre of the theatrical world and anything that passes the critics there is certainly worthy of consideration, so when a theatre copied after the best New York houses is opened to a Wilmington audience common sense teaches that it is a very popular amusement place. The Grand enjoys the distinction of being one of the finest theatres devoted to motion pictures in the entire South and is on a par with some of the best in the large cities. In every branch of business a "standard" is found; that is to say that there is always a brand that is "the best." This rule applies to the motion picture business and in selecting machinery for The Grand Mr. Solky has installed the very best that money could buy. The pictures are large, clear and absolutely without flicker. Three new reels are presented daily. The Grand also boasts of a feature that is found in only a very few large cities and that is an orchestra of picked musicians, who make the air lively during the intermissions and who during the presentation of the pictures add greatly by playing music in keeping with the pictures. Mr. Morgan, a rich baritone singer is also another bis asset. The theatre opens daily at 11 A. M. and if one wants to see the "elite" of the city they may always be seen at the pretty Front street house.

Crystal Palace.

Today is the first of the special matinees inaugurated at the Palace for ladies and children, the management having slected Wednesdays and Fridays for the days on which the programme of the afternoon performances will be arranged most appropriately for them. The feature picture is "A Plucky Western Kid," and the second a rip-roaring comedy. The song to be sung by Mr. Whitten is "In the Garden of My Heart."

CHAS. P. WHITTEN.

Favorite Southern Tenor at Crystal Palace.

All of the vaudeville acts are first class and neat in every detail. The "Song Story Girls," are rendering several recent hits in good style, and the two novelty acts are receiving much applause showing their success in pleasing the public. The two matinees begin promptly at 3:30 and 4:30 and the night shows at 8:15 and 9:15.

The Bijou Today.

Another attractive bill is offered at the Bijou theatre today. "The Marked Dollar," "An Englishman's Honor," and "The Ruling Passion," are titles of the pictures which will be shown. The titles alone indicate that the programme today will be of exceptional interest to the many patrons of the amusement retreat. Mr. Ed Reilly will sing, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Joyland.

Just a little while longer and Joyland will be open for its friends again and the admirers of the famous Biograph Stock Co., will be glad to know that the first picture shown, "A Sacrifice and Thrice," a thrilling war drama as presented by the Reliance Film Mfg. Co., will include the following cast of characters: Marion Leonard, Arthur Johnson, and that clever little actress, Gertrude Robinson. Joyland has many surprises in store for its patrons in the near future. Watch for the opening date of not the big theatre but the cute theatre.

ARE STILL IN TROUBLE.

Greene and Gaynor Not Confronted With Mammoth Fine.

Washington, Feb. 7.—After the government has evidence that any part of the money embezzled by John F. Gaynor and Benjamin D. Green in complicity with Capt. Oberlin M. Carter, in the Savannah harbor frauds is now secreted, there is no indication that the Department of Justice will show its hand before the two prisoners apply for release from the Atlanta penitentiary.

Gaynor and Greene have served their four years' sentences, but now are being held for a $575,000 fine. Under the law they must remain in jail until the fine is paid or take the pauper's oath and swear that neither has more than $20 above the exemptions allowed by statute. A confinement of 30 days after expiration of the sentence, however, must precede such a move.

Both Gaynor and Greene today began serving the 30 day period. If, a month later they take the pauper's oath, a hearing will be set before a United States commissioner at which the government will be represented. If the attorney general has any trace of the money which disappeared after embezzlement it will then be shown.

Agents of the Department Detective Bureau having been working on the case and Attorney General Wickersham has had conferences with District Attorney Marion Erwin, of Georgia. Mr. Wickersham intends to collect the fine if possible.

A compromise on the amount of the fine, it was said at the Department today, would be unauthorized by law and without precedent.

COMMITTEEMEN ARE SUED.

Action Brought Against Prominent Democrats in Frivolous Case.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—Senator B. R. Tillman, Roger C. Sullivan, Norman E. Mack, Thomas F. Taggart and 50 other members of the National Democratic Committee of 1908, were made defendants today by Louis F. Burgh, an automobile owner in a suit for $68, claimed for automobile hire.

Roger Sullivan said today the bill should not be paid by the committee because it was contracted in giving rides to a speaker during the last Presidential campaign and this speaker, the plaintiff asserts, denies the bill.

Being unable to straighten out the difficulty, after more than two years, suit has been brought.

We Sell for Less Because We Sell for Cash

We do not want you to buy from us if you feel that you can afford to pay from 50 cents to $1.50 a pair more for your shoes than we ask for the same kind of a shoe. It is nice to be liberal, and the stores who sell on credit need your money to pay for the shoes bought by the man who never pays for them. If you judge the value of of a shoe by the price, you should go to some other store where they will allow you to pay $5.00 for a $3.50 shoe just to make you feel rich.

We Want the Man's Money Who Wants His Money's Worth.

Philanthropists? No. We have method in our madness, we know that the man who demands full value for his money will pay cash, and he will have cash to spend when the other fellow who buys on credit will be broke and in debt. We are in business to make money, but not at your expense. When we sell four pairs of shoes at $4.00 a pair we get $16.00 in cash, but if we sold these shoes at $5.00 a pair on credit, and one of the four men did not pay us, we would only get $15.00 for our four pairs of shoes.

WE SELL THE $5.00 KIND FOR $4.00 CASH, THE $4.00 KIND FOR $3.50 CASH, AND THE $3.50 KIND FOR $3.00 CASH. DON'T YOU THINK IT WOULD PAY YOU TO BUY FOR CASH? THINK IT OVER, "A DOLLAR SAVED IS A DOLLAR MADE."

SHOOTING IN FAYETTEVILLE

John Q. Barnes Shot Down Yesterday by Furniture Store Collector—Boy Also Wounded—Not Dangerously.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Feb. 7.—A shooting affair occurred on Hay street, this city, today about 2:30 o'clock when J. L. S. Beckwith, collector for the Cape Fear Furniture Co., shot John Q. Barnes, an employe of the Atlantic Coast Line. The trouble grew out of an account which Barnes owed the furniture company.

Beckwith had taken goods from Barnes' house when Barnes failed to pay on the installment plan. Barnes cursed Beckwith in a barber shop when they met this morning, using a vile epithet. Beckwith appeared near the Coast Line passenger station this afternoon, armed with a shot gun. Barnes saw him across the street and advanced on him with his hand in his pocket cursing him. Beckwith warned him to halt more than once. Barnes kept advancing when Beckwith fired, wounding Barnes in the stomach, groin and breast and also shooting in the calf of the leg, a boy, Geo. Stansill, who was riding by on a bicycle. Barnes walked into Napier's cafe and said Beckwith had shot at him, a clerk seeing blood on his hand told him he was shot. Two guests of the cafe carried Barnes to the rear end of the cafe and laid him on a couch. The ambulance was summoned and he was carried to the Highsmith Hospital. Beckwith reloaded his gun, walked down the railroad track, later appeared at police headquarters and gave himself up.

No preliminary trial has yet been held, but Beckwith told his story at police headquartres which is substantially detailed above and is corrobated by witnesses. Beckwith is a young man about 20 years old. Barnes is a man of family. Barnes has been drinking heavily for more than a week and for that reason doctors have not performed an operation, but say at this writing that his wounds do not appear dangerous and he is doing well. The gun used was a single barrel breech loader, loaded with No. 4 shot. Geo. Stansill, the boy shot, is not badly hurt. Beckwith is now in jail without bail.

(Young Barnes is well known in Wilmington and formerly worked for the Coast Line at the Union station in this city, having gone to Fayetteville a year or two ago.—Star.)

IN CUMBERLAND COUNTY.

New Board of Commissioners is Progressive—A Purchasing Agent.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Feb. 7.—At the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Cumberland County Commissioners held yesterday, a contract was awarded to the Carolina Concrete Co., of Greensboro, for the erection of a concrete bridge across Lock's Creek, in Flea Township, at a cost of $3,000, the Carolina Company being the lowest bidder. The payments for the bridge are to be made in three installments—$1,000 the first year, $1,000 the second year and $1,000 the third year—the county to give notes bearing 5 per cent. interest.

The Commissioners have on foot a plan to move the county home, which is now located about six miles from the city, to Fayetteville, so that a better supervision of the home can be had, and the citizens generally can see and know more of its condition. It is calculated that the property on which the home is situated, consiting of about 65 acres of fine farming land, can be sold for a sum sufficient to enable the county to buy a place in or near the city and erect brick buildings with steam heat and other modern conveniences. If such a plan can be consummated it will be a great improvement over the present status of the county home. The commissioners have ordered the county surveyor to lay out the property with a view to the sale of the same.

The new board of commissioners seem to be wide awake and determined to do business in a business-like manner. They have established a rule that all supplies bought for the company must be purchased from the lowest bidder. Mr. R. H. Buckingham, the Fayetteville member of the Board, has been made the purchasing agent and no bill will be approved by him unless it is itemized and comes from the lowest bidder.

DIED IN ASHEVILLE.

Mr. William Bragaw, of Washington, N. C., Passed Away Yesterday.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, N. C., Feb. 7.—Mr. William Bragaw, of this city, received a telegram today announcing the death of his brother, Mr. Richard Bragaw, which occurred about 5 o'clock this morning at his home in Asheville, N. C. Deceased was 29 years of age. Mr. Bragaw was a member of one of Washington's most prominent families and a young man of sterling worth, having hosts of friends here. He was a consistent member of the Episcopal church, an Elk and a Mason. Mr. Bragaw leaves a heart-broken wife and two children, of Asheville. His father, Mr. Jno. G. Bragaw, and four brothers, William Bragaw, Hon. Stephen C. Bragaw, Col. H. C. Bragaw, and Jno. G. Bragaw, Jr., of this city, and a sister, Mrs. C. Mellick, of Elizabeth City. Te remains will be taken to Lexington, N. C., for interment.

Life Saved at Death's Door.

"I never felt so near my grave," writes W. R. Patterson, of Wellington, Tex., as when a frightful cough and lung trouble pulled me down to 100 pounds, in spite of doctor's treatment for two years. My father, mother and two sisters died of consumption, and that I am alive today is due solely to Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me. Now I weigh 187 pounds and have been well and strong for years." THE POSTAL'S FIGHT.

Western Union Before Public Service Commission at Albany.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, New York, Feb. 17.—The Postal Telegraph-Cable Co., charged unreasonable and discriminatory methods on the part of the Western Union Telegraph Co., at the hearing granted to the two companies by the Upstate Public Service Commission at Albany yesterday. The principle which the Postal claims the Western Union is violating affects the whole basis of all inter-State business carried on by common carriers, and vitally affects competition in telegraphing not only to many points in New York State, but a thousand small towns from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and the action of the Postal Co., assumed double importance when it was stated in the argument of General Counsel William W. Cook, of the Postal Co., that the same question which the Public Service Commission is now asked to decide will later be brought before the Inter-State Commerce Commission. The practice to which the Postal takes exception is the alleged unreasonable and discriminatory charge made upon messages transferred from the Postal to Western Union lines at intermediate points of transfer to reach points where the Postal has no offices.

To everyone of these messages the Western Union adds four or five words to indicate the name and date of transfer point and compels the Postal to pay for these words at the regular rate, as though they were written in the body of the messages. The testimony showed that the many instances this caused a positive loss in money to the Postal Company as this local charge is greater than the entire amount received by the Postal Company from the customer and also that the extra words charged for were unnecessary for the public as well for the purposes of the Western Union.

Notwithstanding there are many points where the Western Union have no offices, the Postal Company does not exact similar payment from the Western Union for messages transferred to the Postal Company by the Western Union under similar circumstances. The testimony also showed that the Western Union was discriminating against the Postal in that the former company does not make smilar charges on such messages transferred by the Telephone Companies and the Public Service Commission was asked to order the Western Union to discontinue this practice. Prominent officials of both companies were present and testified. Rush Taggart, the general counsel of the Western Union, opposed the application. The lawyers were directed to file printed briefs with the Commission. It is expected a decision will be rendered within the next 30 or 60 days.

AEROS FOR ARMY USE.

Offer to War Department From International Aviators.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The War Department today received from the International Aviators, through Albert Moisant, an offer to supply seven aeroplanes and aviators to manage them for use of the army on the Texas border. General Wood, chief of staff, has replied that the offer will be taken under consideration. The International Aviators having been giving aviation exhibitions in the South recently and now are at San Antonio, Texas, so that their machines easily could be taken to the boundary. President Taft is opposed to having the United States spend much money for aeroplanes and losing army officers through accidents, while aviation is still in such an embryo stage as far as its connection with actual warfare is concerned. He believes in waiting until it is more certain that aviators can be of assistance to the army; and for the experiment to be conducted with aeroplanes along the Mexican border, he thinks that it will be hard for an aviator 400 feet or more up in the air to distinguish very clearly just what the situation below is. The President thinks it will be better for other countries to do more of the preliminary work in discovering the use of aeroplanes in war and that there will be plenty of time later on for the United States to garner the harvest of good results, if such there are, which other countries discover.

MRS. SNEAD RELEASED.

Indictment Against Sister of Mrs. Martin is Nol Prossed.

Newark, N. J., Feb. 7.—Judge Ten-Eyck this afternoon, on motion of Prosecutor Mott, nol prossed the indictment against Mrs. Mary W. Sneed, for the alleged murder of Ocey W. M. Snead, who was found dead in a bath tub at East Orange and on motion of counsel the judge made an order releasing the woman from custody.

The order was given to Mrs. Snead's son, Albert C. Snead, who went at once to the county jail to take his mother away. Mrs. Carolina B. Martin, who was recently sentenced to seven years' imprisonment in connection with the death of Ocey Snead, will be taken to the State's prison on Thursday next. The third sister, Virginia Wardlaw, who was indicted with the two others, died before her case came to trial.

Foley Kidney Pills

What They Will Do for You

They will cure your backache, strengthen your kidneys, correct urinary irregularities, build up the worn out tissues, and eliminate the excess uric acid that causes rheumatism. Prevent Bright's Disease and Diabetes, and restore health and strength. Refuse substitutes.

ROBERT R. BELLAMY.

Good Liver Remedy Free

When you suffer from any form of indigestion it is always well to take something for the liver, as usually the trouble lies there. If you are bilious, have a bloaty feeling after eating, if you belch, if your skin is yellowish you may be sure it is liver trouble.

What you need is something to stir up the liver, to arouse the gastric juices so that they will aid in the digestion of your food. A very good remedy for this, and one highly recommended by those who have used it, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which you can obtain of any druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a bottle. But if you have any doubt about its merits, and would prefer to try it first, send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will promptly send you a free sample bottle.

Thousands of people first learned of this remarkable cure for stomach, liver and bowel troubles through a free sample. Mrs. Frank Lilly of Plainview, Ill., sent for one and it cured her and she is open in saying that she will never take pills or strong cathartics again, as Syrup Pepsin acts so mildly. Mr. W. L. Bryant, the Postmaster at Sardis, Tenn., says he will never be without it again. No sick person can afford to ignore a remedy so highly endorsed as this. It is good for all the family from infancy to old age, because it is mild, free from griping and yet promptly effective. Furthermore, results are absolutely guaranteed or money will be refunded.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

GOLFING AT PINEHURST.

Travis Wins Medal In St. Valentine's Event—Scores.

Pinehurst, N. C., Feb. 7.—Walter J. Travis, of Garden City, captured the qualification gold medal in the seventh annual St. Valentine's golf tournament today over a fair field of 157 contestants, with a card of 73.

His nearest opponent was I. S. Robeson, of the Oak Hill Club, Rochester, who made 77. Henry C. Fownes, of Oakmont Club, Pittsburg, was third with 78 and George H. Crocker, of the Brookline Country Club, Massachusetts, fourth with 79.

Other low scores were made by J. D. Foote, (Apawamis, 84, B. T. Allen, Foxhills, 85; L. D. Pierce, Woodland, 85; R. C. Collier, Dunwoodie, 85; C. N. Phillips, Alegheny Country, 85; G. E. Morse, Rutland Country, 85; E. J. Spaulding, Waunabakee, 87, and Colin Thompson, Lancaster Country, 87.

Backache, Rheumatism, Sleeplessness

Result from disordered kidneys. Foley Kidney Pills have helped others, they will help you. Mrs. J. B. Miller, Syracuse, N. Y., says: "For a long time I suffered with kidney trouble and rheumatism. I had severe backaches and felt all played out. After taking two bottles of Foley Kidney Pills my backache is gone and where I used to lie awake with rheumatism pains I now sleep in comfort. Foley Kidney Pills did wonderful things for me." Try them now.—Robert R. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

THE MORNING STAR

Published by the WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC., Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 2nd, 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, 51; Editorial and Local rooms, Night Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss live and properly subjects of real interest, will not be published if not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Subscribers will please report promptly any failure or irregularity in the delivery of their papers.

A lot of indian girls out West are rich on account of their inheritances in large tracts of land. They may attract no Counts, but many attract many no-counts.

A bill has been introduced in the Pennsylvania Legislature to punish eavesdropping. Why on earth does any old sister want to hear what Pennsylvania legislators talk about?

Some astronomers at Mount Wilson Observatory, California, announce that they have discovered a new world five or six trillions of miles from this mundane sphere of ours. We fear Dr. Cook's picturesque polar prevarications are finally to be made to look like 30 cents.

The Democrats in Congress have now shown their hand on reciprocity with Canada. It is now the time of the insurgent Republicans to ratify what the Democrats did at their caucus on Monday night at Washington. This may be where the insurgents will have their first split.

In New York yesterday Miss Helen Vivien Gould and her millions were transferred by matrimony to Col. John Graham Hope de la Poer Horsley Beresford, Lord Decies. Evidently the young lady was willing to part with her wealth for a name like Helen Vivien Gould John Graham Hope de la Poer Horsley Beresford, Lady Decies.

The Winston-Salem Sentinel truly observes: "A man should do what he is best fitted to do. Otherwise he won't be either successful or happy." The best fitting he can have is enlightenment and education, and North Carolina should see that the principal thing in a man's or woman's success and happiness is provided—even at a sacrifice.

Greensboro ought to quit keeping Raleigh awake at night about moving that State Capital. It makes Raleigh anxious to anchor the State capital building by surrounding it with administration buildings. Greensboro ought to be satsfied wth beng the "Gate City," the "Convention City," and with having an auditorium that breaks all municipal hearts in North Carolina.

Says the Raleigh News and Observer: "North Carolina needs a legalized primary for both parties on a common day. The sooner it is adopted the better for good politics and good government." After all that has been said along that line, the Legislature will be as remiss in not passing a primary law as it will in not passing a law to encourage the sheep industry in this State.

Our ancestors founded the State of North Carolin from the ground up, with forests to fell, homes to build, wild beasts to fear and Indians to fight, but they depended upon themselves. They left us to take care of the State and not for the State to take care of us. If they foundered the Commonwealth under obstacles we certainly ought to take care of it and not depend upon paternalism ourselves. We are now speaking as if we were a "pauper county."

Another strong Republican Senator, Hon. Theodore Burton, of Ohio, has raised his hands in just disapproval of the whitewashing of Senator Lorimer, of Illinois. He made a strong legal argument and manly speech on Monday and it was as much a conviction of the whitewashing committee as it was of Lorimer. He used keen logic in characterizing the rampant fraud and widespread dishonesty which has dishonored a seat in the great Senate of the United States,

DEMOCRATS TOE THE MARK.

If any body has doubted the sincerity of the Democratic party and its position on the tariff, we should think that the unanimity of the leaders at the Baltimore jubilee on Jefferson Day would dissipate any such doubt. At this great gathering of the men who interpret the Democratic view, the sentiment was overwhelmingly expressed in favor of tariff for revenue without any consideration of its protective features. Now, however, the legislative representatives of the Democracy, who pass upon actual questions, and not theories, in their capacity as lawmakers, have in a large measure confirmed the unanimous sentiment which prevailed at the Baltimore jubilee. That was done in the caucus of the Democratic members of the House at Washington on Monday night.

The Star's Associated Press dispatches yesterday gave the action of that caucus and it clearly defined the position of the Democratic lawmakers. President Taft's reciprocity treaty with Canada was the main question before the caucus, and upon that matter the Democratic Congressmen squarely toed the mark. There was no equivocation, a resolution to support the bill of Representative McCall (Rep.) of Massachusetts, having been adopted by the overwhelming vote of 90 to 22, and finally the action was made unanimous except as to the exemptions under the caucus rules, which do not bind members who are under pledge to their constituents on certain questions.

The McCall bill, which was the question directly before the caucus, embodies the reciprocity treaty with Canada and its passage will enact the treaty into law. According to the caucus, the McCall bill will be supported by the Democrats, although under the caucus rules, Messrs. Webb, of North Carolina; Legare, of South Carolina; Brantley, of Georgia, and Hammond, of Minnesota, are free to vote on the bill as they like, as they seem to have felt pledged to their constituency to oppose any measure which may affect certain interests in their several districts. Probably the North Carolina Congressman had an eye to the safeguarding of the cotton milling and lumber industries in his State, and incidentally the agricultural interests, although it is a disputed point whether these interests will be seriously affected or bettered by more liberal trade relations with our Canadian neighbors. In the caucus, Mr. Webb spoke against reciprocity as being a blow at the raw materials of the producer. The Hon. Carter Glass, of Virginia, took the same view on reciprocity, and so did Messrs. Legare and Brantley. The Georgian, however, attempted to make the point that all reciprocity and other tariff legislation should be postponed till it can be undertaken by the next Democratic Congress. He also urged that reciprocity, being the measure of a Republican President, and indicating a willingness on the part of Republicans to afford relief from tariff burdens, will be used by Republicans as campaign material.

Mr. Brantley lost out in that argument, however, for the caucus broadly rose above the political aspects of reciprocity, and supported the treaty on the higher ground that it may afford a measure of immediate relief from tariff imposition; that such relief should be given now without waiting; and that more liberal trade relations with Canada will benefit trade in a general way instead of being detrimental to it. In fact, the Democratic leaders, Clark and Underwood, led the fight for reciprocity on the strong ground that it is "in part a recognization of the principles the Democratic party has contended for in the Congress and in its platforms," as expressed in the resolution finally by the caucus. So it is and any other action on this reciprocity treaty would have stultified the Democracy and proven an inconsistency that would have belied the very principles of the party.

The result of the caucus shows that the leadership and representative element of the Democracy are thoroughly committed to Democratic principles and are hewing to the line. Whether or not reciprocity hurts or benefits the trade or any of the interests of this country, nevertheless it is a Democratic principle. The Democratic contention is that the more liberal our trade relations are with all the world the more it would stimulate trade; that a fair exchange of commodities with other peoples is beneficial in a general way and will increase the commerce of this country. Reciprocity will put that contention to the test and the Democracy can afford to rise or fall by it in the general election next year, if reciprocity shall have had a fair trial by that time. Cowardice never won a battle and it would not win for Democracy, hence we are glad to see the party's representatives in Congress facing the issue squarely. It shows that it is not a party of theories, but a party which has principles and convictions and is willing to stand by them.

Reciprocity is the boldest stroke that President Taft has delivered. He played it as a trump card against the standpatters trick which lost him and his party the country in the last election He refused longer to play into the hands of his Jonah standpatters, but sprung reciprocity as a principle entirely in line with the public sentiment expressed overwhelmingly at the polls in the November election. The President tried standpattery to his sorrow and so he played the reciprocity card as an offset to his losing deal, with Aldrich and Payne handing him the cards. If reciprocity wins, it will make Taft stronger with his own party and the people, even though it vindicate a Democratic principle. However, that principle is already vindicated in the greatly enlarged commerce which we are doing with Cuba and the Philippines to which tariff concessions were made despite calamity howlers. If more liberal trade relations will do that with Cuba and the Philippines why will it not do so with Canada? If it will do it with Canada, why shouldn't it do the business with all the world?

In short, there is either something or nothing in Democratic policies or principles, and the sooner they are tried out the better. True Democrats do not fear the results of a thorough test as against the Republican policy, which puts a tariff wall around us and compels us to live off each other.

PROPOSED STATE BUILDING.

Several months ago the Star was one of the first, if not the very first, among the papers of North Carolina to give editorial endorsement to the proposition to erect additional administration buildings at Raleigh for the use of the State. We fully recognized the positive need of such fireproof building or buildings as should meet the necessities and we emphasized the actual need of some such structure as the General Assembly is now proposing an issue of $1,000,000 in bonds to construct.

However, when it was given out from the State capital that the report of the State Treasurer showed a deficit of $350,000 we did not feel justified in urging the General Assembly to further increase the State debt at this time. We also had in mind the fact that only last Summer the State was in a predicament to meet a large bond issue which fell due and that at one time prospective failure to do so seriously threatened the credit of the State. Even as it was, that bond debt had to be refunded and the State was only able to do that through the patriotism of North Carolina bankers, as there was literally no help from the big money markets. Refunding a lot of bonds by another bond issue is like taking up one note by giving another, simply continuing the obligation without paying it off wth a sinking fund that should be on hand under any proper system of financiering.

Again, we realized the absolute necessities of the asylums and of the educational institutions of the State, and, feeling that the State is under serious obligations in that connection, we foresaw larger appropriations for that purpose at this session of the General Assembly. On top of that comes the crying need of more money to foster the important agricultural interests of the State, more means to encourage good roads building, and still more money for various other purposes. In view of all this situation of affairs, we could not see good policy in increasing the taxes to pay off a deficit, to increase appropriations all along the line, and to vote bonds in even so small an amount as $1,000,000 without the most serious consideration and investigation. Naturally we did not see how we were to have all these things when the State not only did not have a surplus, but an empty treasury, $350,000 short. Therefore, The Star recently took this position concerning the administration building:

"We are not opposed per se to the provision of adequate, fire-proof administration buildings for the State at Raleigh, but we do insist that the present condition of the treasury, the present unsatisfactory methods of taxation in North Carolina and the general tendency toward rank extravagance in such matters as public buildings should admonish the General Assembly to have a care in voting million dollar bond issues and rushing matters of the kind through the Legislature with the hurrah and the huzzah that somehow seem to accompany the bills. Million dollar bills should not be allowed to pass without the most serious consideration, from the viewpoint of the present as well as the future, and ideas of the strictest economy should prevail in all such legislation. The tendency toward voting bond issues, without counting the cost, is becoming entirely alarming. Better have a care!"

Commenting upon the above Star utterance, the esteemed Raleigh Evening Times remarks:

"That anyone should talk about undue haste and hurry in this matter is astounding. The very reverse is the case. Procrastination, that bane of many good things, has been invoked to the limit. The matter has been discussed pro and con in every conceivable fashion for the last six or eight years, perhaps longer. It was before the last Legislature, in different form two years ago, and because of lack of buildings here it was even threatened to move the capital to Greensboro. No matter in North Carolina has been more discussed in the papers than this necessity for adequate buildings in which to transact the business of the State. The people all over the State know of the need for such a building as that proposed. Then after all this discussion in the papers and by the people, the recommendation of State officials, historical and patriotic societies, there has been no disposition to rush the bill through the Legislature. It is taking its course with other important bills. The need for new buildings is pressing and the matter, after thorough discussion and deliberation, is simply up to the Legislature. Here it will again be thoroughly discussed when it comes up for passage, and we believe the members of the General Assembly are so impressed with the wisdom of the measure that they will pass it."

There is really nothing about which to be astounded. The Star simply advised caution. We even announced that we did not oppose the proposed State building. On the other hand, we fully agree with our esteemed Raleigh contemporary as to the need of the building and as to the fact that "the matter has been discussed pro and con in every conceivable fashion for the last six or eight years, perhaps longer," and all that, but we had no idea when that talk was going on the State would be so little prepared to "come across" when the time came to act upon the long discussion that had been going on. It really doesn't amount to anything if a fellow talks twenty years about building himself a palace, if when the twenty years are up he hasn't got 30 cents in his wallet, he has to go on and do some more talking.

The Star doesn't wish to be misunderstood as opposing the administration building. We advised the General Assembly to "have a care," but if it has looked over the situation with due precaution and can devise a system of taxation on a basis of equalization throughout North Carolina, sufficient to raise a half million dollars more revenue each year than in past years, why we say let's have the $1,000,000 State building. However, we should not construct it because Raleigh sees Greensboro lying under the bed o'nights, but because it is needed and for the reason that State pride inspires us to desire splendid State buildings at our State capital.

There should be no halt to the course of education in North Carolina—either in the public schools or the higher institutions upon which the State must be depended for men who must have intellects developed to cope with other States in the broadest modern development. Conservation of brain beats all other conservation.

For Attempt to Influence Jury in Assault Case.

Harrisonburg, Va., Feb. 7.—For an alleged attempt to influence the jury, in an assault case, Judge T. N. Haas today fined Magistrate O. B. Cooley $50 and requested his resignation for contempt of court. Brock White and W. W. Steele charged that Cooley said certain cases ought to be pitched out of court and that he wanted to put jurymen "on their guard." Cooley offered no defense. Judge Haas asked for the magistrate's resignation, and will take the matter under advisement.

MR. AUGUST H. ZOELLER DEAD

Well Known Wilmington Citizen Passed Away Last Night—Had Been in Poor Health for Some Time—The Funeral.

Many friends in Wilmington and elsewhere will hear with regret and sorrow of the passing of Mr. August H. Zoeller, a well-known and highly-esteemed resident of this city, whose death occurred at 10:45 o'clock last night at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Victor E. Zoeller, Sixth and Market streets, where he had made his home since before the death of his brother, some time ago.

Mr. Zoeller had been in poor health for several weeks and had lately suffered with a tumor on the brain, his condition being such as to give little hope of his ultimate recovery. However, he had been confined to his home only a short time, and the news of his death will come as a shock to many friends in Wilmington. He became worse yesterday morning about 11 o'clock, and gradually sank until death came last night at the hour named.

Mr. Zoeller was one of the best known of Wilmington citizens and had that genial, kindly disposition that attracted to him a great many friends. He was born in this city 47 years ago and had lived in Wilmington all his life. Early in life he began his business career, and was for years book-keeper for M. M. Katz, a well known dry goods merchant of Wilmington. Later, he engaged in business for himself on Market street, and still later entered the brokerage business on the wharf, where he did a large business for some of the largest clients in the North and West.

About ten years ago Mr. Zoeller became associated with his brother, the late Victor E. Zoeller, in the jewelry business on Front street, one of the largest and most exclusive of its kind in the city. Upon the death of Mr. Victor Zoeller the business was sold to Mr. A. O. Schuster, the present owner of the business, but Mr. A. H. Zoeller remained with him until the death, in a clerical capacity. Mr. Zoeller was a member of the Masonic fraternity and was for many years also prominent in Knights of Pythias circles. He was modest and retiring in his nature, but was a capable business man, and there are many who will hear of his passing with sincere sorrow.

He is survived by a brother, Mr. Philip Zoeller, of New York, of the immediate family; also by an uncle, Mr. E. V. Zoeller, of Tarboro, president of the State Board of Pharmacy; a niece, Miss Bertha Zoeller, and a nephew, Victor Zoeller, named for his late father.

The bereaved ones have the sympathy of many friends in their sorrow.

The arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made, but will be announced later.

STWERAGE OBSTRUCTS CREEK?

Investigation Will be Made of Conditions Near Disposal Plant.

Having made an investigation in person and found that Smith's Creek is obstructed with vegetation at a point near the disposal plant of the Wilmington Sewerage Company, Mayor Walter G. MacRae yesterday morning notified Dr. Joseph Akerman, city superintendent of health, that he desired him to visit the place in question and ascertain whether or not the conditions as exist there are a menace to the public health. The vegetation, it is thought by the Mayor, sprung up in the creek from the sewerage matter emptying into the stream. Sewerage from eastern section goes down Green's Mill creek into Burnt Mill creek and into Smith's creek to the disposal plant, located near the railroad bridge over Smith's creek on the Newbern road. The sewerage company claims that the sewerage, after leaving the disposal plant, is so purified and dissolved that it will not collect and obstruct a stream, but the Mayor says that the indications are that nothing is done to the sewerage for the reason the stream is obstructed at that point and that Burat and Green's creeks are apparently lakes of contaminated water. Mayor MacRae wanted to make a second visit to the point in question yesterday afternoon, but the city superintendent of health was otherwise engaged, so the visit will probably be made today.

THE LUTHERAN SYNOD.

Will Meet in Wilmington in May. Arrangements for Session.

Wilmington people will be interested to know that the date for the annual meeting of the North Carolina Lutheran Synod is rapidly approaching and will be held in this city the week ending May 10th. The meeting will be with St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church and the more than one hundred delegates and distinguished guests will be the guests of members of the Lutheran congregations in Wilmington. One of the features of the session in this city will be the educational work of the North Carolina and Tennessee Synods, which are closely affiliated, several of the charges in the west being connected with the Tennessee body. The sessions of the Synod will be important and it will be a pleasure for Wilmington to entertain the body.

FIRST ASPARAGUS OF SEASON.

Grown on Mr. B. B. Humphrey's Farm, on Middle Sound, Brought Here.

Mr. B. B. Humphreys, a well known and most successful truck grower of Middle Sound, is the first again this season to send to Wilmington a bunch of asparagus, which plant he cultivates extensively. The bunch brought to The Star office was gathered from Mr. Humphreys farm yesterday and is a fine specimen of the palatable plant. Mr. Humphreys has 14 acres of land in asparagus and the plants are showing up fine for this season of the year. The yield promises to be large and very satisfactory If the present warm weather prevails, he will probably begin to gather asparagus for the market within a week or ten days.

ONE DEAD FROM EXPLOSION

James Tate, Colored, Succumbs to Injuries Received at Cape Fear Chemical Co., Plant—Brother Also Injured.

As a result of the explosion of a retort at the plant of the Cape Fear Chemical Co., just beyond Smith's Creek, on the Castle Haynes road, early yesterday morning, James Tate, an employe, was fatally injured, dying at the James Walker Memorial Hospital late in the afternoon, and his brother, John Tate, also an employe, received fractures about the arms, injuries to his right side, burns about the face and a number of bruises, and is himself in a critical condition at the hospital, with some chance of recovery, however.

The explosion occurred at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning when James and John Tate were alone at the plant, where they had been at work for two or three hours, therefore, the cause of the accident is a matter of conjecture. Neither of the two men was in condition to make an intelligent statement of the explosion, which was so terrific that it shook houses in the vicinity for a half mile around. From the fragmentary remarks of John Tate, who was not so severely injured as his brother, as he lay upon the ground shortly after the accident, it is gathered that the negroes were in front of one of the three large retorts used by the chemical company in preparing products for the market. Each retort has a large iron door, weighing more than three tons, which is fastened to the brick bodies with iron bolts, also huge in size. A perpendicular iron roller, extending from the ground to several feet above, furnishes the means of opening and closing the door. John Tate, it appears, was nearer the retort than his brother, which probably accounts for the fact that he was not so seriously injured as the other. The enormous iron door was hurled through the air over his head, one of the pieces knocking him down, when the explosion occurred. James Tate was standing in line with the flying door and the heavy iron roller at the end of the door struck him on the back and right side of the head, pinning him to the ground with the massive piece of iron resting on his skull, in which position he was found a short time later by those first on the scene. His head was crushed in and the skull broken and those who gathered at the scene expected every breath to be his last one.

John Tate was rendered unconscious by the piece of iron which felled him, but he soon recovered his faculties to some extent and ran about two hundred yards, at the same time giving vent to loud cries of distress from the excruciating pain he was suffering. After going for about the distance mentioned he fell to the ground, where he was found a few minutes later by Mr. Louis Tyndall, a young white man, who lives in the vicinity and who was the first person on the scene.

Mr. Tyndall called the hospital ambulance for James Tate, but the vehicle was about an hour in arriving, a mistake having been made in receiving the message as to the location of the accident. In the meantime Dr. J. C. Wessell had been summoned by telephone and arrived about the same time as the ambulance. James Tate was taken immediately to the hospital, and his brother was taken a few minutes later in an automobile. Dr. Wessell administered a hypodermic to John Tate before he was removed.

At the hospital everything possible was done for James Tate, but it was evident from the first that he had but little chance of recovery, and he died at 5:30 o'clock. Several of his teeth were knocked out by the force of the blow, so terrific was the impact of the door when it struck him on the back of the head. It is said at the hospital last night that John Tate is in a critical condition and may not recover.

Both negroes lived at Rock Hill plantation, about five miles from the plant at which they had been employed for several years. They were hard working negroes and held the esteem of those who knew them. They were regarded as expert workmen in their line at the plant.

The iron door, weighing more than three tons, was split into fragments, and some of the pieces were hurled 50 or 60 feet away. The major portion, however, was thrown against a brick wall 18 inches thick, about 25 feet distant, and it was smashed into numerous pieces. This was the second explosion of the kind at the plant in the last year or two, but no one was injured at that time.

Mr. Frank L. Huggins is superintendent of the plant, and he was out of the city at the time of the accident, and he was notified by telegraph. The plant is more commonly known as the "Unknown Factory", where wood preservatives are manufactured.

SEMINOLE BACK IN PORT.

Went Down Monday With Cutter Yamacraw—Leaves Again Today.

The revenue cutter Seminole, Capt. Crisp, which accompanied the revenue cutter Yamacraw, of Savannah, down the river on Monday, returned to port yesterday for provisions and will clear again today for a cruise. Both cutters went down to pull on the yacht Susquehanna, which was ashore near Southport, but she was floated on Sunday. It will be recalled that the Yamacraw brought Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, C. D. Hilles, here and late yes terday left for the cruising grounds on the Georgia coast. Assistant Secretary Hilles is being spoken of as a probable successor to Mr. Chas. Norton, private secretary to President Taft. He is most favorably mentioned for the place.

AUDIT AND FINANCE BOARD

Regular Semi Monthly Meeting Held Last Night—Nothing of Any Special Interest Considered—Smallpox Extras.

The Board of Audit and Finance was in regular semi-monthly session for a little over an hour last night with Chairman M. J. Heyer presiding and Messrs. H. C. McQueen, M. G. Tiencken and W. B. Cooper, members of the board, and Capt. Thos. D. Meares, the clerk, in attendance. There was nothing of special interest before the body and the time was spent with the consideration of the usual routine matters and a few appropriations which came over from the aldermanic board.

After reading and approval of the minutes of the last meeting, attention was called to the fact that it is shown from the monthly report of the City Clerk and Treasurer that the treasury is $15,000 "shy" of the amount on hand this time last year, due, it was said, to increased expenditures. The board concurred in awarding the contract to Mr. T. W. Callahan for sinking four additional deep wells at different points in the city, locations decided upon some time ago. The appropriation of $1,000 for repairing the market house wharf was not concurred in, for the lack of information as to the necessity for the repairs, for what purposes the wharf is to be used, and the amount of revenue the city derives from it. The clerk was instructed to make inquiry of the Board of Aldermen relative to the three points raised. The extra salary of $10 a month for the past three months for Health Officer E. Piaer, on account of night services, was concurred in, and Dr. Joseph Akerman, city superintendent of health, was allowed $300 as extra salary for the same period, cutting in half the allowance made by the aldermanic body on the last item. Upon the recommendation of the Public Building Committee of the Board of Aldermen, Mr. J. H. Burriss was awarded the contract for reflooring the hallway on the second floor of the City Hall building and cutting a small stairway leading to the basement, or first floor, the total amounting to $100.50. Mr. Burriss was also awarded the contract for repairing all the windows in the library on the second floor, for $75.

Upon motion of Mr. H. C. McQueen, seconded by Mr. Tiencken, the clerk was instructed to notify the city attorney to pay into the city treasury all of the amount he collected on back taxes of the Hardin Johnson property, objection having been raised to his taking out his commission, amounting to $300, on the ground that the entire amount should have been paid into the city, then the Board of Audit and Finance to fix his compensation as it saw fit in the particular case. Mr. Cooper voted against the motion on the ground that when the matter was up some weeks ago, the board decided that it had no right to take action in the matter and therefore the city attorney was left to make such settlement as he deemed advisable. Mr. McQueen explained that his objection was not to the settlement, or compromise, but that he felt that the board should settle the matter of compensation.

The question of dividing the expense of the smallpox campaign between the city and county was discussed briefly and it was decided to take the matter up with the Board of County Commissioners. Coupons on bonds to the amount of $18,887.50 were destroyed. Of this amount $2,250 were coupons on street bonds. The board adjourned shortly after 9 o'clock.

DIED IN HOSPITAL HERE.

Negro Succumbs to Pistol Wound Inflicted in Sampson County.

As the result of a bullet wound inflicted by another negro during a quarrel at a lumber camp near Parkersburg, Sampson county, early yesterday morning, Elisha Dixon, colored, died shortly after noon yesterday at the James Walker Memorial Hospital, in this city, whither he was brought for treatment on one of the morning trains. The negro who did the shooting is understood to be in jail at Clinton, having been captured a short time after the trouble.

Sheriff S. P. Cowan was notified by the hospital authorities of the death of the negro and he in turn notified Dr. C. D. Bell, the county coroner, and inquired of him what disposition should be made of the body. Dr. Bell decided that as Dixon was wounded in another county and as his assailant is held there, that the investigation into the circumstances should be made in Sampson county. He, therefore, advised that the body be shipped to Sampson county, which was done. The particulars of the shooting were not learned here.

MESSENGER BOY INJURED.

Fred Mohr Struck by Automobile Driven by Mr. Arthur Newkirk.

Fred Mohr, about 13 years old, one of the bright messenger boys for the Postal Telegraph Company, was painfully, though not seriously injured, about 8 o'clock last night, when the bicycle which he was riding and an automobile driven by Mr. Arthur Newkirk and owned by Starkey Bros., collided in front of the garage of The Auto Company on Second, between Princess and Chesnut streets. The boy was thrown under the auto and his wheel demolished. Fortunately, the automobile was not running very fast at the time and it is said that the lad was not seriously injured. He complained of his side and had several bruises and one of his fingers was hurt. He was taken to the office of Dr. F. H. Russell, where he was given medical attention, and then carried to his home. He is a son of the late Mr. John Mohr, who was a member of the Wilmington Fire Department.

THE COMMISSION FORM.

Mr. Hugh MacRae Would Eliminate Ward and Party Lines.

Editor The Morning Star:

The article, "Commission Government by the Des Moines Form," written by Mr. John McVicker and published in last Sunday's issue of the Star, is most timely.

The question of city government is at the moment of great importance, because changes are contemplated and may take place in the next few days which will have a far-reaching effect on the city's future. Shall the best known form of city government be selected? Throughout the country the people are awaking to the fact that they have never really governed themselves. There have been too many hidden hands to regulate "the checks and balances"; too many private interests, either financial or political, to be subserved. The trend is now toward direct responsibility and complete publicity.

In the matter of municipal government, the highest point of perfection seems to have been reached in the Commission Form, as adopted by the city of Des Moines. Where Wilmington departs from that form, it should be for an obvious reason and under wise guidance. In Mr. McVicker's statement, he makes very clear the conditions which he thinks have made the "Commission Form of Government" successful, and these points are as follows:

"The most essential and fundamental features of the Commission Form of Government, as embodied in the charter of my home city of Des Moines, are the eliminating of ward and party lines, the concentration of power and authority into a single body of five men elected by the people of a united city, and the introduction of direct legislation through the 'initiative, referendum and recall'."

He says, further, that the official owes his election directly to all the people, is emancipated from partisan pressure and the clamor for reward for services rendered; and because he represents the entire city and not a fraction of it, his service trains him to take a broader view of both his duties and his opportunities. He specifically points out the evil of having an "East Side" and a "West Side", or any division whatever, and makes it clear that the basis of the plan is "unification."

Is it not almost certain, therefore, that Wilmington would start out with a serious handicap in adopting a new plan of government and leaving out of the plan what are considered the essentials by those who have originated and made use of the plan.

If this problem is viewed from its scientific side, the laws of mathematics—supposed to be immutable—give a result worthy of consideration. Granted that the object is to secure an efficient Commission of five men from a city which is either to be considered as a unit, or is to be divided into five sections with one member of the commission to be selected from each section, a competent mathematician has made the demonstration that there is seventeen times as much chance of selecting a good commission from the united town as there is from the town divided into five parts.

If, upon careful consideration, we find that in order to obtain an ideal government it is necessary to have a united city rather than a city divided, is it not advisable to pave the way for the best results at this time?

HUGH MacRAE.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Several Cases Tried at Lengthy Session Yesterday Morning.

The session of the Recorder's court yesterday was the longest held in some time, owing to the fact that all the cases on the docket were hotly contested by consul for the defendants. Court was in session for nearly three hours.

Ed. Robinson, colored, was charged with assault with deadly weapon on Carrie Singleton, colored, who was herself indicted by Robinson for a similar offense as were also her two little boys, one nine and the other ten years old. It appeared from the evidence that Robinson and the Singleton woman had a fight at 10th and Castle streets, neither using a deadly weapon, and while the two were thus engaged the 10-year-old son of Carrie Singleton ran out and stabbed Robinson in the back with a knife, inflicting a painful but not serious wound. The warrants against the two were changed to charge affray and they were let off upon payment of the costs. Owing to the youth of the boy he was found not guilty of assault. B. G. Empie, Esq., represented Robinson, while Walter P. Gafford, Esq., appeared for Singleton.

Jealousy over a girl in whom both were interested, led to a personal encounter between Luther Clemmons and Tony Ellis, the latter a Syrian, and as result both were before the court yesterday to answer to charge of assault with deadly weapon. Clemmons was charged with pointing a pistol at Ellis and Ellis with assault with a gas pipe. The case came up from Justice Harriss' court. Both were found guilty, Ellis being fined $5 and costs and Clemmons $25 and costs, Hon. John D. Bellamy represented Ellis, while Walter P. Gafford, Esq., appeared for Clemmons.

Will Alfred, colored, was found not guilty of a charge of assault with deadly weapon, towit: a knife, upon Ethel Hofman, colored. L. Clayton Grant, Esq., appeared for the defendant.

Mr. George Mote, a well known employe of the Tidewater Power Company, on the suburban line, was arrested yesterday morning by Officer D. W. Coleman on a warrant charging him with non-support of his wife. When the case was called for trial yesterday morning both sides agreed to continuance until today in order to summons witnesses. Mr. Mote gave $100 bond for his appearance at trial. W. P. Mangum Turner, Esq., represents the prosecutor, Mrs. Mote, while Walter P. Gafford, Esq., appears for the defendant.

Falls Victim to Thieves.

S. W. Bends, of Coal City, Ala., has a justifiable grievance. Two thieves stole his health twelve years. They were a liver and kidney trouble. Then Dr. King's New Life Pills throttled them. He's well now. Unrivaled for constipation, malaria, headache, dyspepsia. 25c at R. R. Bellamy's.

ERADICATION OF HOOKWORM

Sorosis Offers Five Dollars in Prizes for Best Essays on Disease and Matters of General Sanitation—Notes.

Mrs. W. N. Hutt, chairman of the Health Department of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, has offered three, and may perhaps offer more, prizes of five dollars each to be given for the best essays on Hookworm Disease and General Sanitation.

The prizes will be offered as follows:

Five dollars to the boy or girl under 15 years of age for the best essay on Hookworm Disease.

Five dollars to the boy or girl over 15 years and under 21 years for the best essay on Hookworm Disease.

Five dollars to the boy or girl under 15 years of age for the best essay on General Sanitation.

Grading of Essays on Hookworm Disease.

English composition .....15 points
Style and neatness .....15 points
Knowledge of the disease, how it may be acquired, the harm it may produce, where it may exist, etc...35 points
Originality displayed in proposed scheme for curing the sufferers in your county and correcting existing conditions so that those who are free from the disease may not be exposed to it .....35 points

The contest will be open January 1st, 1911, and close March 1st, 1911. All who enter the contest should send in their essays to Mrs. W. N. Hutt, chairman, Raleigh, N. C. The grading of the essays on General Sanitation will be similar to the grading of the essays on Hookwom Disease.

In connection with these prizes offered by Mrs. Hutt, it was decided at the last business meeting of Sorosis that the Health Committee working along the same lines of the Federation Health Department offer $5 in prizes for the best essays on the above subjects written by children in New Hanover county. This offer is to all children in New Hanover county.

The sum of $2 is offered for the best essay and three $1 prizes for the next three according to merit.

All who enter the contest should send their essays to Mrs. M. L. Stover, chairman Health Committee, N. C. Sorosis, before March 1st, 1911.

CONDITIONS IN KOREA.

Subject of Most Interesting Missionary Address Last Night.

The missionary services being held at the First Presbyterian Church every evening this week continue with increased interest and attendance. Last night the church was well filled with those gathered there to hear an address by Rev. Dr. W. G. Reynolds, of Korea. Rev. J. M. Plowden presided at the meeting. Dr. Reynolds is a deep thinker and is an unusually pleasing speaker and he was heard with the greatest interest by the large congregations as he told of the characteristics of the people of Korea, their conditions, the strides they are making in Christian work and other interesting facts. As an illustration of the work of the Koreans who have accepted Christ as their Saviour, he referred to their personal service. During the past year the Koreans gave service which would take 250 persons one year to do and one person 250 years. The missionary work in Korea is very encouraging.

Dr. Reynolds will be the speaker again this evening, when Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian Church, will preside.

Tonight Dr. Reynolds' theme will be "The Recent Great Revival in Korea and the Campaign for a Milion Souls." It is made plain by the congregation of the First Church that these services are open to all and that no collections are taken. All are cordially invited.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Important Special Meeting is Called For This Morning.

President J. A. Taylor, of the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday issued a call for a special meeting of the organization to be held at 11:30 o'clock this morning and it is hoped that all members of the body will be in attendance as matters of vital importance to the development of the port will be considered. The objects of the meeting are not set forth in the call for the reason that it was thought best to wait until the meeting and then acquaint the members of the important matters for consideration. The following is the call for the meeting as sent out yesterday by Secretary J. A. McGeachy:

"President Taylor has called a special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce for tomorrow, February 8th, at 11:30 A. M., when matters of vital importance to the commercial development and growth of Wilmington will be submitted.

"Please make an effort and, if necessary, a sacrifice to be present, in order that we may have a full attendance to discuss these most important matters."

Policy Was for Small Amount.

Reference having been made in yesterday's paper to an insurance policy held by John J. Bowman, on the life of Eliza Hickson, whom he was acquitted of killing in Superior Court last week, a representative of The Star was shown yesterday the policy, which is in the possession of L. Clayton Grant, Esq., who defended Bowman. The policy is in the Metropilitan Life Insurance Co. and was issued Oct. 25, 1909, for only $96. It was one of those policies which cost 10 cents a week. Bowman was named as the beneficiary and it was plainly stated on the policy that he bore no relationship to the insured, but that he was responsible for her support. It was said that Bowman had his life insured in favor of the Hickson woman.

MADE IT CIVIL WAR.

Instead of "War of the Revolution" In Rhode Island.

Providence, R. I., Feb. 7.—An objection to the words "war of the rebellion," similar to one which was made recently by a Southern Congressman in the National House of Representatives was put forward in the Rhode Island House today. An amendment to include marine with the militia, soldiers and sailors of the "war of the rebellion" as exempt from poll taxes was under discussion when Representative Shaw Cross, Democrat, asked that Civil war be substituted for "war of the rebellion." The motion was carried by a vote of 50 to 23. Representative J. J. Richard, Democrat, who seconded the motion, said he did so out of respect to the South.

New Orleans, Feb. 7.—LaRevolucion, the official gazette of the Honduran revolutionists, copies of which were received here tonight on the steamer Mercator from Puerto Cortez, announces that General Manuel Bonilla has secured control of more than half of the republic and is prepared to move an army of several thousand trained soldiers against Tegucigalpa, the capital.

BUNTING'S UNUSUAL OFFER.

Sell Dr. Howard's Specific at Half-Price, and Guarantee a Cure.

"It isn't often that we have faith enough in the medicine put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure," said J. Hicks Bunting to a Morning Star man who dropped into their store, "but we are glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that basis.

"The Dr. Howard Company, in order to get a quick introductory sale, authorizes us to sell their regular fifty cent bottles at half price, 25 cents, and although we have sold a lot of it, and have guaranteed every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory.

"We are still selling the specific at half price, although we cannot tell how long we shall be able to do so, and anyone who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion or a general played-out condition, ought to take advantage of this chance. You can tell your readers that if they are not satisfied with the specific they can come right back to our store and we will cheerfully refund their money."

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 7.—The grand jury today returned new indictments against the judges of election in the Democratic Congressional primary of August last, who were discharged here on demurrer proceedings, action by the Supreme Court of Appeals upholding the constitution of the Virginia primary election laws. The trials by petit jury were set for February 15th.

ENTERTAINED PARTY ON YACHT SUSQUEHANNA

Complimentary to a number of their friends, Mr. M. J. Corbett, president, and Mr. M. W. Divine, secretary and treasurer, of the Ocean Fisheries Co., yesterday gave a delightful yachting party on the steam yacht Susquehanna, Capt. J. F. Bussells, which was recently purchased in the North by the company for its extensive fishing interests on the lower Cape Fear.

The yacht is one of the very handsomest that ever visited the port and before undergoing changes and being placed in commission at the fisheries, a party of friends of the owners was invited and to their hosts they are indebted for a most delightful day on the historic Cape Fear and its classic shores. The yacht left the city shortly before 11 o'clock and had a delightful run to Orton plantation, where she was moored for a short time and the guests were permitted to enjoy the hospitalities of that fine old lodge, through the courtesy of its owner, Mr. James Sprunt. Thence, the party visited the extensive plant of the Ocean Fisheries Co., at Old Brunswick, and a little later proceeded to the quaint old town of Southport and across to the magnificent fortifications of the government at Fort Caswell, where the visitors were superbly entertained by the officers of the post. While a few lingered here, the Susquehanna turned her bow oceanward and a number of the guests enjoyed the delights of the broad Atlantic. The yacht returned a little later and, picking up the party at the fort, was soon under full steam ahead for the return to Wilmington, arriving about 7 o'clock. Lunch was served on board by Misses Eliza French and Miss Mary Northrop, and nothing contributed more to the pleasures of the delightful trip.

Among those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hardin, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. C. Chadbourn and son, Mr. M. W. Divine, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Northrop, Jr., Capt. and Mrs. J. F. Bussells, Mrs. Jones and Miss Bussells, Col. and Mrs. Walker Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. George Harrell, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Everitt, Jr., Mr. H. C. McQueen, Miss Agnes McQueen, Mrs. R. R. Stone and son, Mr. M. H. Curran, Mr. Jas. H. Chadbourn, Mr. Wm. H. Sprunt, Mr. Walter Buckner, Mr. H. H. McIlhenny, Mr. Champ McD. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Boon, Mrs. G. Herbert Smith and Miss Smith, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Dick, Misses Margaret and Nellie Corbett, Senator McMillan, of New York; Mr. Wilson, of Maryland, U. S. A.

SHOWS BAD CHARACTER.

Dr. Pantchenko's Record Exposed at Russian Trial.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 7.J—The proceedings today in the trial of Dr. Pantchenko and Count O'Brien De Lassy charged with the poisoning of Count Vassilli Bouturlin, were largely devoted to establishing the bad character of Pantchenko. Unsavory episodes in the life of Pantchenko were brought to light by witnesses and the object of the prosecution seemed to be a complete exposure of the entire career of the seelf-confssed poisoner.

In addition to introducing evidence to prove that Pantchenko was a moral pervert, witnesses were examined to prove that he had sold poison with which a Russian cavalry officer killed himself in Paris; that he had blackmailed an apothecary out of $1,000 to hush a case where a mistake had been made in the compounding of a prescription; had peddled a studefacient for illicit purposes and has edited improper publications for which he had on several occasions been sentenced to terms of imprisonment.

A MEMORIAL TO LINCOLN.

Will be Erected in Washington at Cost of Two Million.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The House enacted into law today the Senate bill providing for a commission to secure plans and designs for a suitable monument or memorial to Abraham Lincoln in this city. It is estimated that this memorial will cost in the neighborhood of two million and be the most imposing of all the monuments in Washington, save only the towering shaft erected in memory of Washington. The commission is composed of President Taft, Senator Shelby M. Cullom, of Illinois; Speaker Cannon; Senator Wetmore, of Rhode Island; Representative McCall, of Massachusetts; Senator Money, of Mississippi; and Representative Champ Clark, of Missouri.

TAFT PLEASED AT PROGRESS.

Looking Toward Passage of Reciprocity Agreement.

Washington, Feb. 7—President Taft is satisfied with the progress which is being made looking toward the passage by Congress of the reciprocity agreement between this country and Canada. Although he had expected opposition to the measure, he thinks that on the whole it has been well received by the people of the United States and there has been less genuine opposition to it than he expected. Among the White House callers who discussed reciprocity were Representatives McCall and Mann.

HITCH IN NEGOTIATIONS.

Trouble With Honduras May Not be Settled Any Time Soon.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The negotiations looking to the establishment of an armistice in Honduras are seriously threatened with a deadlock. This is due to the fact that the government and revolutionary authorities have assumes attitudes diametrically opposite in regard to the conditions which shall govern the acceptance of an armistice. The hitch in the negotiations developed today in dispatches received by the State Department from Tegucigalpa and Cortez.

Pending the proposed discussion between representatives of General Bonilla and President Davilla for the purpose of establishing a truce, the officials insist that the status quo in the situation shall be maintained and that the revolutionists shall not be allowed to enter Puerto Cortez or San Pedro Sula, which have been evacuated by the Federal forces.

General Bonilla declared that he will accept the armistice only on condition that he be permitted to enter Puerto Cortez. Puerto Cortez is the most important port on the northern coast of Honduras and as the Federal forces abandoned it because the revolutionary army intended to capture it, it seems that the leader of the revolution is unwilling to lose the advantage which would be gained by its occupation.

The government troops on Sunday recaptured San Marcos on the Nicaraguan frontier, according to a dispatch received at the State Department from the American legation at Tegucigalpa. The revolutionists were moving from Yoro in the direction of Sulaco, which is several miles westward. Fresh rumors are in circulation in Honduras that men are coming from the interior of Guatemala en route to Ceiba, which is in the hands of the revolutionists.

AERO CARRIES MESSAGE.

Harkness Made Remarkable Flight In California.

Sandiego, Cal., Feb 7.—Carrying an official message from Major McManus, commander at Fort Rosecrans to Lieutenant Ruhlin, commanding the United States troops camped on the American side of the border at Tia Juana, Harry Harkness, amateur aviator made a flight in an Antionette monoplane early today. He delivered ed the message and returned to his hangar on North Island, opposite this city and close to Fort Rosecrans in 56 minutes. The distance for the round trip was 32 miles.

Harkness flew over the camp of the United States soldiers at a height of 100 feet and dropped the message which was weighted. He circled above the camp long enough to see the message delivered to Lieutenant Ruhlin and then returned and after his passage over the cruiser now anchored in the harbor, came to the earth.

This is the first time an aeroplane has been used in actual military operations in the United States. For the greater part of the time Harkness was over the ocean or the bay of San Diego. His machine worked perfectly and the flight was made without accident or delay of any sort.

FOR SAFETY APPLIANCES.

Burkett's Bill Approved By Senate—Will Soon Be Law.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Senator Burkett's bill requiring safety applianecs in connection with locomotive boilers on inter-State railroads today received a final approval of the Senate and only lacks the approval of the President to make it a law. The House amended the measure so as to limit the expenditure for inspection to $300,000 a year, and on Mr. Burkett's motion, the Senate concurred in the amendment. The bill was approved both by the railway labor organizations and the railroads themselves. It provides that the inspection of boilers shall be made by the railroads in accordance with rules provided by the Inter-State Commerce Commission. The inspection service is to be under direction of a government corps consisting of one chief inspector, two assistant chiefs and fifty district inspectors. A district inspector may order any locomotve out of service if he deems it to be in a dangerous condition.

NERVES WERE ALL UNSTRUNG

Mrs. Lomax, of Chandler, Tells Important Facts Regarding The Woman Question.

Chandler, N. C.—In a letter from this place, Mrs. Augustus Lomax writes: "I have been an invalid for more than 20 years. I would have smothering spells every day, so bad I expected death at any time. In fact, I could scarcely walk across the room. I had womanly trouble, and my nerves were all unstrung.

Everyone who saw me, said they never saw anyone in such a condition. I was treated by several different doctors and took lots of different medicines, but with very little benefits, so I had almost given up all hopes of ever being any better.

One day, some one handed me a Birthday Almanac, and after reading it, I decided to try Cardui. It did me more good than all the doctors and medicine. I am so much better than I ever expected to be! I owe it to Cardui."

No sick or ailing woman can fail to be interested in the experience of others, particularly when their stories give hope, as the above letter should do.

As a medicine, as a tonic, for weak, tired, worn-out women, Cardui has a record of more than 50 years' success.

It is worth trying. Ask your druggist.

The Fleischmann Cooking Schools

Everybody knows Fleischmann's Yeast, but most people associate the word "Yeast" with bread-making only. Do you realize that a dozen or more articles made and baked daily in American homes can be made quickly, easily and better with Fleischmann's Yeast than with any other leaven?

The Fleischmann Company has established The Fleischmann Cooking Schools to instruct the housewives of America in the use of Fleischmann's Yeast in various kinds of baking and cooking. These schools are conducted by trained Domestic Science Teachers, who give lessons, by actual cooking and baking in the presence of their classes, in our traveling kitchens.

Mrs. Sloane, Domestic Science Teacher, and one of our instructors, will conduct a Cooking School in the Woolvin Building, 221 Princess Street, next to office of Tidewater Power Company, Wilmington, N. C., every afternoon, except Sunday, at 2:30 o'clock, from Feb. 6th to Feb. 14th, inclusive.

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO ATTEND any or all of these lessons. These lessons are free to the public. Nothing is sold or offered for sale.

A copy of Fleischmann's Cook Book will be given to each person who attends.

COTTON STEADY AFTER BREAK

Touched New Low Levels for the Movement Yesterday But Rallied in Late Trading—Advices Bullish.

New York, Feb. 7.—An early break carried the cotton market into new low ground for the movement today, but prices later rallied on covering or buying for a reaction and the close was steady at net unchanged to two points higher.

The opening was steady at an advance of 3 to 9 points in response to better cables than expected, but the market almost immediately broke under realizing by yesterday's buyers for a turn, renewed liquidation and stop loss selling. There was evidently a feeling that the relative steadiness of the cables represented nothing more significant than some covering or operations for a reaction and while Southern spot advices were bullish, with the official weather bulletin confirming the private reports of precipitation below the normal in the Southwest during January, the decline was not checked until March contracts had sold at 14.10 and May at 14.29, or 14 points under the closing figures of last night and about 125 points under the high record of the season. At this level there was some demand from trade interests and the market later rallied on covering, although business being less active on the advance than it had been on the decline suggested that local sentiment was still inclined to a bearish view of the situation. Closing prices were below the opening figures at about the best point reached the re recovered.

Considerable attention was attracted by a bullish statistical statement from a leading local spot house forecasting inadequate supplies during the end-season and the improvement during the afternoon was probably aided also by talk of a better demand from spinners and private wires from the South claiming that interior markets were not following the decline. Exports were heavier again today, but were barely in excess of port receipts and the export movements appears to have lost some of its force as a bullish argument since Lancashire trade accounts have become less favorable. European cables reported that the continent had accepted a good deal of cotton on overnight offerings from the South.

Receipts at the ports today 35,453 bales against 48,322 last week and 16,743 last year; for the week 150,000 bales against 182,598 last wek and 90,883 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 7,377 bales against 2,446 last year, and at Houston 6,315 bales against 3,318 last year.

Spot closed quiet; middling uplands 14.45; middling gulf 14.70; no sales. Futures opened steady and closed steady.

STOCK MARKET WAS LIFELESS

Without Decided Tendency and Fluctuations Confined to Narrow Limits Yesterday—Reactionary Trend.

New York, Feb. 7.—At the close of an uncertain day on the stock exchange, prices as a whole showed few important changes from final quotations of the previous day. The market was lifeless and without decided tendency and fluctuations were confined to narrow limits throughout. An accession of strength in the final hour lifted the market out of its apathetic condition and forced up quotations to a point which compensated for earlier losses. The closing was active and strong.

During the most of the day a reactionary trend was evident, although the support which the market received on each set-back prevented any extensive losses and gave the impression that substantial backing was being offered to maintain the present improved level. Such heaviness as developed was attributed, for want of a better reason, to Wall Street's fear that the proposed extra session of Congress, in case of failure of the present Congress to take final action on Canadian reciprocity might open the way for further adjustment of the tariff. It is more likely, however, that the temporary setback was due to the fact that the market has been filled with long stock during the advance recently and that the process of liquidation which is still underway is making its effect felt more plainly with the diminishng absorptive power which has resulted.

Heaviness of the metal stocks which was accompanied by a sharp decline in copper prices in London presumably was due to expectations of an unfavorable monthly report from the Producers' Association tomorrow.

A large increase in supply is looked for, despite the understanding that production was to be curtailed.

From Fall River came reports of steady curtailment in the output of cloth mills and from North Carolina news that the cotton manufacturers of that State at a meeting tomorrow would consider the advisability of reducing their output.

The better tone which prevailed in the late trading doubtless was due in part to the belief that the Bank of England's discount rate might be lowered tomorrow.

The bond market was steady. Total sales par value $4,008,000. United States government 4s declined 1-4c on call. Total sales for the day 553,900 shares.

THE GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—Democratic caucus approval of reciprocity was a reason according to some authorities why all grain and provisions fell off in price here today. There was an unusually large trade in wheat, but the market was weak almost from start to finish. Closing figures showed a net loss of ⅝ to 1⅛@1¼c; corn and oats both finished ⅛ to ⅜@⅝c under last night, with provisions down 7½@10 to 15c.

Wheat—No. 2, red, 92⅝@94½; No. 3, red, 91⅜@94; No. 2, hard, 94⅜@95½; No. 3, hard, 92@94; No. 1, northern, 1.00¾1.03; No. 2, northern, 1.00@1.02; No. 3, northern, 98@1.01; No. 3, spring, 92½@99; No. 3, spring, 91@98; velvet chaff, 88@98; durum, 85@93.

Corn—No. 2, 47@47½; No. 2, white, 47@47½; No. 2, yellow, 47½; No. 3, 45@45½; No. 3, white, 45@45¾; No. 3, yellow, 45½@45⅝; No. 4, 43½@44½; No. 4, white, 43½@44½; No. 4, yellow, 43½@44½.

Oats—No. 2, 31¾; No. 2, white, 32¼@32⅜; No. 3, white, 31¼@31⅝; No. 4, white, 30½@31½; standard, 31⅜@32¼.

SHARP RALLY IS AWAITED.

Foreign Reports Better Than Anticipated—Scattered Liquidation.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Feb. 7.—Liverpool was better than anicipated, but the opening here found a large quantity of cotton for sale, which being absorbed by arbitrage brokers, quickly found its way to Liverpool, with the effect of closing that market weak at from 5 to 6 points lower.

This scattered liquidation continued until May sold at 14.30, when the local traders became heavy buyers, believing that a rapid reaction was due. Their buying absorbed the offerings and brought about a recovery to above last evening. A sharp rally is expected in Liverpool tomorrow of fully 6 to 8 points. After so sharp a decline this is the natural course of markets, and as Liverpool is the lowest of all it should be more marked there. The local traders feel the heavy movement has had its effect and on this basis look for a better demand from spinners.

THE COMMERCIAL CONGRESS.

Hon. John H. Small to Be One of the Speakers—Others.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 7.—The Land Reclamation section of the Southern Commercial Congress at Atlanta, March 8th, 9th and 10th, will be addressed by Representative Small, of North Carolina. His subject will be "Recent Progress in Drainage Legislation," and he will bring out, for the use of the Southern States, the good points of North Carolina, Arkansas and Louisiana laws.

Hon. Joseph E. Ransdell, president of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, will address the same section on "The Undrained Empire of the South." He will deal with the wonderful resources of the South yet remaining undeveloped in lands suitable for drainage.

Prof. Geo. A. Cole, president of the Arkansas Land Congress will address the section on the subject of "A Federal Survey of the Wet Lands of the South as an Aid in Establishing Drainage Areas Affecting More Than One State."

The chairman of the section will be Mr. Edward Wisner, of New Orleans, president of the Louisiana Meadows Company.

GREENSBORO WANTS CHANGE.

Commission Form of Government Adopted—Election in May.

Greensboro, N. C., Feb. 7.—Greensboro today adopted the commission form of government, including the features of the initiative, referendum and recall, by a 2 to 1 ballot. The new system is patterned from the commission governments in Des Moines, Ia.; Galveston, Tex., and other cities, and contains some original provisions.

Three commissioners are to be elected in May, one, the Mayor, to receive $2,600 per annum; and the other two to receive $2,400.

The adoption of the new plan follows a hard-fought contest in which the opponents of the plan claimed the charter prepared was undemocratic, though admitting that the idea of commission government itself was democratic.

FORMER BANKER GUILTY.

Wm. R. Montgomery Converted Funds to His Own Use.

New York, Feb. 7.—William R. Montgomery, former president of the Hamilton Bank of New York, a State institution, was found guilty late today of feloniously converting to his own use $4,400 of the bank's funds. The larceny occurred October 23, 1907 on the day that the bank closed, and it was the president's defense that he used the money to save the bank from suspension. The jury which returned its verdict after four hours deliberation recommended the defendant to the mercy of the court. Montgomery nearly collapsed when he heard the verdict. He was remanded for one week for sentence.

San Antonio, Texas, Feb. 4.—The value of the aeroplane as an instrument of war, especially for scouting purposes, was demonstrated today during maneuvers participated in by two monoplanes driven by Rene Barrier and Rene Simon and a detachment of United States troops from Fort Sam Houston.

Tortured for 15 Years

by a cure-defying stomach trouble that baffled doctors, and resisted all remedies he tried, John W. Modders, of Moddersville, Mich., seemed doomed. He had to sell his farm and give up work. His neighbors said, "he can't live much longer." "Whatever I ate distressed me," he wrote, "till I tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for me that I can now eat things I could not take for years. It's surely a grand remedy for stomach trouble." Just as good for the liver and kidneys. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c at R. R. Bellamy's.

Orozco was content with repulsing the enemy. After the retreat of the latter he searched the ground thoroughly, but discovered no sign of blood letting.

Seen following the skirmish Orozco said that while there had been no loss of life he was glad of the moral effect of repulsing the enemy. The moral effect was needed for Orozco's stock dropped several points among his sympathizers first, when he allowed Rabago to elude him at Bauche on Sunday and second for failing to attack Juarez on the heels of that officer. Orozco gave his side of the story for the first time today. He had waited at Bauche two days for Rabago. He was without food or water. His men clamored for an advance on Juarez, he said, declaring that Rabago was a myth, or had been engaged further south by Gen. Blanco.

Leaving 50 men on guard, where two rails of the railroad track had been removed, he started north. His men were nearly exhausted from thirst, hunger and fatigue, and his horses unable to move faster than a dejected walk. He had been gone an hour when Rabago's train arrived and was derailed.

The rebel rear guard engaged the Federals at intervals during the night. Rabago meanwhile moved into the trenches which Orozco had deserted. The rebel leader wasted no lives in assaulting these trenches. He had built them and knew their strength. A skirmish fire was maintained at intervals on Sunday. Then, by a daring move, protecting his read with rapid fire guns Rabago escaped into a pass in the hills.

The jaded insurrectos were unable to follow. Instead, they turned aside to Rancho Floress, where food and water were plentiful and the animals could graze and recuperate with their masters.

Orozco placed the number of his own dead in the Bauche fight at two and his wounded at four. He thought that 26 patients, now in the Federal hospital at Juarez, embraced the Federal losses in wounded, but insisted that they lost six or eight killed instead of one, as officially reported. He said that some of his men saw lthe Federals burying the dead.

The rebel force consists entirely of mounted infantry. Those not with Orozco are near Bauche or on scouting duty in the mountains. Unlike the Federal troops there are no women camp followers with the insurrectos.

President Diaz has no organized commissary. In its place there are the women. Each soldier gets a few centavos a day to buy food. This they turn over to the women, who forage the country, cook tortillas if they are able to buy corn, and provide "jerked" beef.

More often than not the women have children with them. They are officially recognized by the War Department, which furnished them passage on troop trains. Two of them were killed at Bauche. It was a spectacle both ludricous and pathetic today to see a dozen of them, mostly barefoot, running after the troops as they advanced toward the rebel camp. Their faces bore evidences of anxiety, as most of them are bound for what serves as matrimony to men in the ranks. There is no danger of privation they will not face. Residents of Mexico declare also that they are more cruel than their men folk and that it is they who usually strip the dead a common practice.

There are three Americans with Orozco at present. Two of them, former Philipine veterans, were with another detachment today and the third, Lawrence Converse, of Glendora, Cal., was accidentally on the American side during the engagement. He was unable to return in time to share in the fight.

Converse was formerly a member of the Texas militia and also was an instructor at a military school in Los Angeles. He said that he was in communication with 25 American veterans who have declared their intention of joining the revolutionists the moment Juarez is taken.

While Orozco said that he intended to attack Juarez it was plain to interviewers that he was making mental reservations. He had no news of Gen. Navarro, who is reported advancing with 1,000 Federal soldiers from Chihuahua, but the probability of an attack from that source was plainly a matter of deep concern to him. When it was suggested that he might find it advisable to abandon for the time being his intentions toward Juarez and turn south to meet the force from Chihuahua he returned an evasive answer.

Claim of the Rebels.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 7.—Theodore Ricksecker, a manufacturer of New York City, arrived tonight from Mexico, where he and several other Americans were held up on a train by insurrectos south of Juarez recently. He says he has the only complete copy of the proclamation of the Mexican revolution that has come to the United States.

Mr. Ricksecker said he met Braulio Hernandez, who drew up the proclamation, written in both Spanish and English. The headlines read:

"The revolutionary party of Mexico accuses Porfirio Diaz before the honest, peace loving people of the world and before the citizens of Mexico who care to leave their children a heritage of liberty and honor."

Then follows a long list of alleged crimes and misdemeanors charged to Diaz. They are in part:

"That he twice bled the mother country with revolutions; killed nine suspected revolutionists at Vera Cruz; slaughtered 500 strikers in the Rio Blanco mills and threw their bodies into the ocean; perpetrated election frauds; gave away valuable concessions; caused the assassination of people he feared; sold the Yaqui Indians to planters in Yucatan; robbed the nation by lottery, and permitted bull fights, and deceived the bankers of the United States by fostering riots against Americans."

Washington, Feb. 7.—Mrs. Ann E. Woods, aged 83, wife of William B. Woods, of Georgia, who was an associate justice of the United States Supreme Court from 1880 to his death in 1887, died here today. She was a sister of the late General Warner, United States Senator from Alabama. Burial will be at Newark, Ohio.

OWES HER HEALTH

To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Scottville, Mich.—"I want to tell you how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash have done me. I live on a farm and have worked very hard. I am forty-five years old, and am the mother of thirteen children. Many people think it strange that I am not broken down with hard work and the care of my family, but I tell them of my good friend, your Vegetable Compound, and that there will be no backache and bearing down pains for them if they will take it as I have. I am scarcely ever without it in the house.

"I will say also that I think there is no better medicine to be found for young girls to build them up and make them strong and well. My eldest daughter has taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for painful periods and irregularity, and it has always helped her.

"I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for the Lydia E. Pinkham's Remedies. I tell every one I meet that I owe my health and happiness to these wonderful medicines." —Mrs. J. G. JOHNSON, Scottville, Mich., R.F.D. 3.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases.

Incorporate the Davidson Interurban Railway Company, Create Watkins township, Vance county. Repeal the act incorporating the town of McAupin, Pacto lus township, Pitt county. Amend the law relating to filing reports of trustees and fiduciaries before clerks of Superior Court.

Amending Divorce Laws.

As the third reading mill was rapidly gringing out bills, one every few minutes with very little discussion, there was one that sprung the word "divorce" and then there was talk in abundance. The title was "Amend the Revisal as to Divorce." There were calls for it to be read in full and it developed that it proposed to strike out the word "ten" in Section 50 of Chapter 1561 of the Revisal so that parties separated for five years, where there are no children, shall be entitled to divorce.

Representative Williams, of Buncombe, opened the opposition. Mr. Connor urged the passage of the which, he said, had received a unanimous favorable report from Judiciary Committee No. 2. There was a public demand for it and it was the duty of the Legislature to recognize this rather than stand on any personal views they might have individually.

Representative Battle, of Wake, spoke at length against the bill declaring that to say that a husband and wife having no children could get divorce practically at will was disconcerting to a degree. Dr. Carr, of Duplin, also opposed the bill. The second reading resulted in a vote of 47 for and 27 against the bill. There were objections to the third reading with inability to secure suspension of rules and the bill took its place on the calendar for another day.

The House adjourned at 1:30 o'clock to 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The bill introduced by Wooten of Lenoir, to put solicitors in the State on salaries provides that until March 1, 1912, the clerks of the courts shall certify to the State Treasurer the fee earnings of the solicitors and these for the year ending March 1912 shall be totaled and the salaries for the ensuing year based upon them so that fees aggregating $1,800 shall entitle the solicitor to $1,600 salary, this scale being maintained with the salaries just $200 less than fee earnings, on up to $4,200 fee revenue in which case the salary is limited to $4,000. The salaries are to be paid quarterly beginning March 1st, 1912, when the bill is to become effective. The bill is referred to the committee on Courts and Judicial Districts, Representative Rodwell, chairman.

New Orleans, Feb. 7.—Ten thousand dollars will be expended on a banquet to be given to Col. Theodore Roosevelt at the French opera house March 11th, at which time he will be the guest of this city. It is estimated that 800 covers will be laid at $15 per plate. Roosevelt medallions are being cast costing $3 each banquetter to be provided with one.

CAROLINA COTTON MEN.

Will Hold Important Meeting at Raleigh Today.

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 7.—The Cotton Manufacturers' Association of North Carolina, will meet here in special session tomorrow to consider pending bills before the Legislature, which the association considers of vital interest and to formulate united plans of action with reference to these measures.

The measure before the Legislature which concerns the association are the equalization of taxes and assessments of corporations; insurance legislation and child labor laws.

It is possible also that the association will take some special action with reference to the critical condition of the cotton manufacturing industry.

Mexico City, Mex., Feb. 7.—Henry Lane Wilson, the American ambassador here, said today with reference to the statement that he had been instructed by the Administration at Washington to investigate the alleged firing upon an American under the Red Cross flag by the Federal troops near Juarez on Sunday, that he had been merely instructed to ask the Mexican government that repetition of the Red Cross violation be avoided. He has done this, and has received assurances that all care will be exercised in the future.

Quick Death to Hen Lice and Mites

Hen lice, chicken lice, and mites, cost the poultryman more money than all the other items of poultry expense combined. They are responsible for more disease and more poor egg records than all other causes together. They infest brooders and roosting places, and multiply by tens of thousands a week. But they can be positively exterminated at a mighty small cost compared to the saving.

CONKEY'S INVINCIBLE TRIO—

Lice Powder, Lice Liquid and Lice Ointment—does the work. Conkey's Lice Powder will kill all body lice. An unequalled disinfectant and a positive germicide. 25c; 50c; $1.00.

Conkey's Lice Liquid is a positive death dealer to mites and lice. A germicide and preventive. Penetrates crevices where powder will not. Harmless to fowls of any age. Qt. 35c; Gal. $1.00.

Conkey's Head Lice Ointment is the only positive exterminator on the market for the parasites that pester little chicks and cause them to droop and die. 10c and 25c.

These wonderful remedies sold in quantities to suit purchasers. Complete directions with each package. Used by thousands of poultrymen throughout the United States. Satisfaction guaranteed.
